It can't get more simple than this.

Don't upload to VirusTotal, use your brain.

Remove version information, goes from 5kb to 4kb.

Scan result:

What are you on about? The source is in the download, you've got to compile it yourself, I removed all executables from the file before uploading.

Download Visual Studio & open the project.

Once you've opened the project, replace the link with your file and go under "Build" and build the application. Then you're done.

DON'T UPLOAD TO VIRUSTOTAL.

Reminding me to not upload to Virus Total is a little insulting but guess i deserve it for not doing enough research in compiling

It's a general reminder for anyone that was reading that comment.

The majority of people still don't understand that VirusTotal distributes, nor do they understand what distribution means..

So I just tell everyone no to upload to VT.

Looked at the source. This shouldn't even be classified as a downloader at this point. I mean, you buy ~20 lines of the most basic code into this. Everything else is generated by Visual Studio. Don't post halfhearted attempts to make malware. Put some effort into it.

Great!

let me check this out.

... Are you joking?

It's a downloader, it's supposed to be simple. If you want a check:

try

'Download here

Catch : end try

You're actually retarded.
