Fate45 - October 20, 2022, 1:12 am

Hey Bub Here I found this article about how to make moneys with That Free VPS.

1. Get paid to promote

One of the most established money-making routes when it comes to a VPS is to look at a Paid to Promote (PTP) opportunity.

In simple terms, the idea behind PTP is that you can generate an income by agreeing to run a traffic exchange on your VPS. It is a money-making idea that requires constant work to keep the cash coming in but the rewards are there if you get it right.

2. Think big if you are going to resell

Another option to consider would be reselling, however, it tends to be the case that you need to think about buying VPS in bulk if you are going to generate some potentially serious profits.

Reselling involves buying at the right price and making a margin when selling on so the trick is to shop around to buy smart, allowing you more scope for bigger profits.

3. Be a host

Next up is the opportunity to make money from VPS hosting.

There are a couple of options to consider, either hosting your own site or concentrate on selling someone hosting on your server.

It would help if you had a good knowledge of languages, HTML, and Java, for instance, in order to pursue this option and it does also create the possibility of generating profits from showing ads on your site too.

4. Tutorials can be profitable

Passing on your knowledge and expertise can often create some money-making opportunities and that is also the case when it comes to VPS.

One idea would be to think about sharing your knowledge via social media platforms, which would earn you credits.

Also, if you decide to contribute tutorials, in general, there is a reasonable chance that you may be able to translate your knowledge into cash by earning credits of each tutorial you write.

5. Use creative thinking to turn a profit

Another way to look at the opportunities that exist with a VPS is to develop a strategy where you have multiple income streams that all combine to generate a worthwhile income.

A VPS offers you the chance to create your own website hosting company, for example, which could help generate a reasonable amount of profit each month. In addition, you may be able to start earning money by offering file sharing or data storage options.

Other possibilities include offering cloud storage or a video sharing platform.

Whichever way you look at it, there is little doubt that having a virtual private server creates a wealth of openings that could present you with a way to earn a monthly income.
