IF SOMEONE WANTS TO EDIT THE LINKS/PICTURES DO SO AS I CAN'T DUE TO LACK OF POSTS

Not my first time in prison (deffo the last) This ? one was by far the hardest sentence I had done... seen some crazy shit, had some fights eh you don't win them all though!

I had a 3 hour stand off with police, threats to kill, array, common assault and aggravated burglary (I smashed the house up not burgled the place) I did this because the guy was stealing from people in my area and he owed me and my eldest sister money.

It wasn't worth it I went to prison he won in the end I guess.

I mean, I would get it if you went to prison for something interesting, such as a skill (hacking) or something actually clever.

But this is just embarrassing, for you and for your family. Not sure why you're proud of this / why you posted it ?

AVeryBritishMan - January 25, 2018, 5:25 pm

Thank you for doing that.

Quote:UPDATE: Proceedings on Saturday, December 10 at LLanelli Magistrates Court, revealed the identity of the man as distinct from the rampaging artist. William Michael Paul Parker, 23, 40 Rhydybont, appeared charged with assaulting Olive Branch Chef Stavros Hamza by beating, making a threat to kill, burglary of a property with intent to cause criminal damage, possession of an offensive weapon and possession of a bladed article on December the 8th.

Well, you did something stupid - you didn't kill anyone even though you had the chance and now hopefully have fixed yourself for the better.

Yeah it's embarrassing you're right and I never said I'm proud of it I posted this to show people I was out of Prison simple as that.

Now you talk about hacking I was being watched by the NCA national crime agency for 2.5m of cyber crime basically accused me of ddossing UKIP website back in 2014 6300 sites went down when the server was offline.

(I don't like UKIP nor racists) - I was on itv news bbc news regarding this BOB BROWN DDOSS ATTACK 2014 if you google that.

- The police gave me "NFA" No Further Action because they didn't have enough info.... they still owe me my computers too I haven't had them back yet... that's another factual story to post (People know about this on 4chan and other sites & video with proof was posted.

Comexa - January 25, 2018, 5:36 pm

Did you by any chance smoke marijuana or a substance like it before it all went down? Sounds to me that you got paranoid at some point when raiding the house.

That's so true it's time for me to change my life around and stop being a pathetic violent scum bag (them days are over) been there done that.... tried all the drugs possible and on this sentence I thought about a lot of things such as prison life... it's no life for me and now I'm hanging my bag up because I'm done.

Btw yeah I didn't kill no one but if I were to kill someone it should be a random person / stranger such as a hitchhiker someone who has no connections. (killing is bad and evil and I would never do such thing) I'm such a man that made a stupid mistake.

I learnt from it for sure thanks Mr. Robot.

I injected Crack Cocaine so you're almost right... I've been clean since the day I got locked up I've been offered a script Meth/Subutex but I wont to turn my life around I don't need opiates in my system. Yeah I was pretty uch paranoid and extremely mad... I didn't raid the house I never step foot into the house I just ruined it from the outside.

This is where the British law is corrupt because I never step foot inside the house and never stole anything... I was there for 3 hours having a stand off with the armed police with a machette and a knife in my hand not a laptop. Just because the weapon went in through the window via like 1 inch it's classed as burg. (I just did criminal damage to the place)

Why is your second post after your introduction you telling us how you're a nutjob who runs around threatening the police and neighbors with a machete? It seems like this isn't your first rodeo on this forum, and you're probably just another banned troll returning.

Not to mention, you said you served 24 months in prison for this crime yet it states in the article that this happened in December of 2016. That is barely a year ago.

Mr.Peanut - January 25, 2018, 6:39 pm

Serious question,

Do you think your sentence would've been wayyyy less if you had more expensive lawyers?

Just saying it seems like you're hating on me for no reason what so ever? - You're not a criminal and you don't understand how the justice system works... (good for not being a criminal btw... high five to you.

Also I didn't tell anyone I was a nutjob thats what the paper says.. i didn't threaten negbours either I gave them a coat because they were cold I was nice to them.

Troll? Would you like pictures of me my ID and such I'm not faking nothing thanks.

24 months in prison yes you serve half of that so 13 months I served because I got a extra 1 month for climbing the fence. I got remanded on 8/12/16 out on 9/1/18 13 months bro.

In the UK well anywhere in the E.U you do the other half of your sentence on license unless it's over 10 years.

So if I got 6 years I'd serve 3 in prison and 3 out of prison

I don't lie don't assume I'm a liar just because other people lie. logic solved? reply back if you wish.

No I was looking at 8-10 years (that was scary) ... I got a huge result also free legal aid in the UK, I've used the same solisitor for like 10 years maybe more. I got the aggravated burglary dropped to burglary with intent to cause criminal damage (because I didn't actually do a burglary)

I do know how the justice system works actually. I have my bachelors in Criminal Justice. Also, you don't claim you served 24 months in prison when you served 13. You claim you were sentenced to 24 months and got out on remission. Either way, you're a scumbag because you brag about your crimes you've committed as if you're some bad ass. Either way, I don't truly care about you nor your prison history. I just shared my opinion on what I thought about your story.

Great well then you should know about this then & my sentence was 24 months therefor I got a 24month sentence dude I'm not going to sit here and argue over the matter. 13 months / 1 month / 1 day is enough in that place, I'm a scum bag? oh nice one I'm not bragging about nothing I'm not laughing over it nor do I think it's funny.

I'm far from a badass I don't sit in trap houses daily and if you didn't care you wouldn't be posting therefor you care.

SpudMS - January 26, 2018, 3:55 am i just finished a 48 month sentence in December mate done 26 months out it because they held my parole back 2 month. But prisons are not that bad in Scotland.

Meterpreter - January 26, 2018, 4:04 am

I can't see any part which could be considered gloating. He merely stated he just got out of prison (like multiple members here have done) and posted what he did to ensure he wasn't bullshitting.

Also, I concur, the fact he admitted it was a stupid thing he did makes it even more humble. Everyone does stupid shit, and to point fingers like you're the Virgin Mary and have never fucked up in your life is stupid.

OP, when I was 17-18 I did something very naughty, made the news, and fuck they talked me up! Chin up dude, make a better life for yourself and your kids :) GL

No he wasn't a random person yeah he was stealing from me, I was renting my flat out to him and he was using it as a trap house (to sell drugs from) / Yeah I went the wrong way about it though right... sorry I've not been online only had chance to reply back now.

Welcome back, stay out of trouble bro. If the guy owed you money you should have just waited for him to come out and then rob him.

Were you the one busting or the one having your cheeks busted though? That's the real question...

Hopefully you manage to stay out of trouble. I have some close friends that have been locked up before for years, it changes you. And not for the better either ?

That feel when the news calls you an absolute madman.

It sounds like you did things that you now regret while you were angry and I you learned your lesson. Did your sister ever get the money back?

Update: read the article.

Why were you living in the woods and, ontop of that, why did you threaten to nail-bomb a bar?

HabibiDZ - February 14, 2018, 4:36 am

Based OP. Fucking neets out here hating, bro was just trying to get his money. Should sue that newspaper for slander.

I've been to prison to many times to even bother about it honestly... but this sentence I think I found some sense. Being away from my children for so long was terrible worse feeling I've ever felt.

Tough (because I missed my family yes... other than that no not really I'm not a hard guy or anything but if anyone gave me shit there I'd put it on them straight away, Gotta be Alpha in that kind of place even if you're beta

No she didn't get the money back ^^ I went the wrong way around it, and that news paper chats shit bruv I didn't live in the woods (I'd get a hostel if I was homeless when this happened I had my own flat (council flat which I have now lost because I went to prison. I didn't threaten to nail bomb no pub that chatting shit I have no idea where they even got that from.

(Feb 14, 2018 05:42 AM)Phixel Wrote: CITE I'm glad he's out, and I'm glad you're trying to put yourself on the right track, what really fucks me off on this thread is the amount of people who instantly judge you for one mistake. And I'm posting on the basis that you are trying to change and you have realized you were a fucking idiot. Because let's be real, you don't stand outside somebody house with a machete unless you do not give a fuck about your own life and the consequences. I don't think the basic part of humanity can understand that being brought up in these environments is what makes people commit retarded shit like this. If you aren't afraid of going to prison because it's "cool" or "normal" then you aren't afraid to cause some criminal damage to scare somebody and hold off police for three hours.

I don't hate you, or dislike you. I feel sorry for the life you've had to live. It must not have been easy, and I've been through similar. If you do feel like you are mentally ill, go see somebody to help you fix that, if not, grow up and stop doing dumb shit, we do not have to conform to society. We are taught through reading, music and videos/movies that crime is okay, that it's normal for people to get shot and stabbed. Yet we think a man who has done it is to blame, idiots.

I have been in dark places where I knew I did not care for others, it was because of my own problems, and the things I saw. If this was replaced with anger, and not being afraid of consequence there's a 100 people's houses I'd go fuck up. Which is why you shouldn't be given a sentence after you have already served. All these people judging you should be attempting to help you, and bring you up. They shouldn't be putting you down, because if that is what happens on the outside you would end up going straight back inside because you would see yourself as an outsider, unable to fit in.

Don't listen to these morons, work on yourself. I know you can do it, and you do not seem like a "Nutter" from your posts, I think being inside gave you time to realise the shit you did. But stay away from fights, it's what we're taught is normal, and okay. It isn't, it's how they keep us contained, they let us fight, and they lock us up for it. We fight because we're jealous, or we're angry, and half the time it's related to money and greed. Dig a little deeper into why people do shit, don't blankly judge people.

I'm from the UK, it's a ghetto. Don't underestimate that. But you can be better than the rest OP, good luck.

You could use this forum to study, and learn, and leave that path behind. I haven't quite left it, but I'm on track.

Thanks bro eh yeah well I guess there entitled to judge.. that's just what every other fuck does "JUDGE" before they even speak to me. I guess that's because were humans and evil mother fuckers. Yes I am trying to change you're right and I have changed my whole manner is completely different now if someone "Gives me shit" I'll just laugh in there face and walk off, back then I wouldn't care about stabbing them / battering them (You don't win them all but I'd give it a good fucking go) Hell yeah I was a fucking idiot! This wasn't just one mistake.. I've made so many mistakes in my life but now is the time to change right. Yep right then I wasn't giving a fuck about my life nor the consequences I even told the armed police to shoot me (Infact I was hacking away at my arm with the machete, I was going through a rough time and I'm glad you know that.

Oh prison does bother me.. I mean who likes prison? I don't that's for sure but that's what happens when someone goes on a crazy one being in prison isn't "COOL" It's something to be ashamed of. I'm not here wanting you to like me or dislike if I'm honest I couldn't give a shit what you think about me... but I like that you speak about my life (Yeah I've seen some horrid shit / murders / violence / beatings throughout my childhood but that's how my life was (only makes me stronger) You're right I do need to grow up this isn't the actions of a normal 25 year old.

Thanks for your post and I don't take what these people say to heart, honest thanks a lot for this post sorry it took me a few days to reply back! As I've said yes I had plenty of time to realize what I did was wrong and I did learn a lesson!

- Sorry is this doesn't make sense to you, I'm not the best when it comes to typing loads!

Were you judged for your crimes? In movies and stuff you see people get beat up for their crimes so I was wondering if that was true. Hope you came out swole, having a lot of free time like that would motivate the fuck out of me to work out all the time haha.

Thanks uhm yeah a lot bro probably the one that was the worse is a guy who use to be opposite me he slit his wrists and was yanking on his veins he dropped dead right in front of me..

Seen many people cold blue from spice, or people getting beat with tuna can inside a sock,.

Funny thing I got a screw driver and decided to unscrew my bunk bed and make it single the officer was confused. I was also able to break a hole through to the next cell (the walls are 1metre thick I managed to do this within 2 hours... Such a old building
