Thread: Botnet hosting, better to host on VPS or Hosting?

swapnilakshay - January 28, 2018, 8:31 am

So I am looking to host a botnet / loader, but I don't know where to host it.

Where would it be better to host one?

On the BulletProof VPS or hosting which allows botnets?

Any suggestions?

How is OpenLeaf?

Any other recommendations?

Shared hosting with 10000 bots good or a bad idea?

There is tons of known hosting companys which doesnt care about botnets, search option maybe tell more than thousand words.

Also always use VPS/Dedicated for host.

openleaf limits connections per second, I can vouch for area6 not suspending botnets

Your vouching for your own service?

Hosting on digital ocean is a brain dead idea and in short you get what you pay for.

You can check the thread, I just manage sales.
The owner posts about technicalities on the thread too.
I also use the serves for my own net :)

yea men resellers are trusted af
id use blazingfast tbh
they dont mind illegal shit, dont give out any data etc

0x1010 - January 31, 2018, 7:24 am outsource hosting just resellers here that lie about TOS mostly maybe some legit

i dont think i can recommend it to any member to use it openleaf not have good support may be they will only reply when my plan finish since i only pay for what i did not use no reply from support and you want to recommend it to member bad service

HangMansheart - July 16, 2018, 12:03 am

Look for something foreign, they won't give a flying item about botnets.
VPS are pretty great but if you're planning on making it a little more serious for the bigger nets, search for dedicated hosting.

sherbet - July 28, 2018, 4:35 pm

use the vps its better bro :)

simone22 - February 27, 2019, 1:41 am

I would only recommend Zamanto for the best Bulletproof Hosting. ALL OF Their SERVICES ARE 99.9% UPTIME, WHICH IS NO MORE THAN 1 MINUTE AND 26.4 SECONDS ON DAILY LEVER PER YEAR. They also provide privet built Dedicated server & VPS Hosting plans to make a true BulletProof Hosting. Check their AUP and you will laugh your brains out.

What can you suggest for me ? I wanna setup a VPS Booter (Putty) but idk what VPS to buy im Currently using Digital ocean but i dont feel secure, what do you think ?

DarindAAAA - July 19, 2019, 5:03 am

Bulletproof VPS is way better then shared hosting.

Digital Ocean would suspend your services for doing that, you need a Bulletproof VPS.
