Thread: Testimonials aren't locked?

illuminati? - January 30, 2018, 12:02 am

I see that Testimonials that are approved are no longer automatically locked?

Is that something that wasn't set up when we switched over to mybb 1.8.x

They aren't locked but you can't reply to them anyway.

I just Noticed it too it was Locked before however you Cant reply to them. I guess Omni made some changes in the Testimonials section

Saltpeter - January 30, 2018, 12:14 am

All Writers no longer moderate that section either.

Toph - January 30, 2018, 6:30 am

Confound is the moderator of that section.

It was also used on the chat invite section to prevent threads and posts.

I used to moderate the section within Writ3rs. Threads don't automatically get locked. When they get posted they're automatically unapproved, then a moderator approves it, locks the thread, and forwards the award request to Omni. They're not locked and they won't have the award either as they posted their testimonials whilst there was no moderators.
