Thread: Phone Call Spammer v1.0 \(Auto Dialer\)

I-GANK-I - January 30, 2018, 6:54 pm

Hi All,

Today i am bringing you this phone call spammer.

Basically what it does is you submit the mobile or landline phone number in the application and submit the amount of times you want it to initiate a call and it will keep that line busy (it will call it over and over again from 10 different random US phone numbers).

i am planning on releasing more updates soon such as 'missed calls only' or an option to use proxy (since it uses an API to initiate the calls).

Coding Language: Python v2.7

Difficulty of use: 1/10 (Very Easy to use)

If you want me to code some other stuff for this i am open for suggestions :)

Prices:

Only selling source code: $150 (You get instructions how to make this .EXE)

You get Free NCPANEL Lifetime worth $500 when purchasing this (NCPANEL is what i use for the HWID System in combination with some other custom code)

Payment Method: XRP, ETH

Interested in buying or just have a question than feel free to post in this thread and i will reply asap or message Cold Hearted on

ToS:

1. i am not responsible if the provider blocks the API due to spam (however this never happend to me and i called over 1000 times).
2. you will not share the application or attempt to reverse it, i will disable the API.
3. No Refunds (Unless it does not work for you)
4. You understand and agree to pay the one time setup fee

I wasn't asking for a copy I was asking if anyone has vouched for it lol. And no thanks but you should take a video of you doing it to your phone and add it to the thread.

:p i will, i just released it so give me 24 hours, i will post a picture of how it looks like soon on the phone.

(Jan 30, 2018 08:04 PM)Lukasu Shemazio Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) why does it cost you money to setup if I may ask.

Sure :) the provider needs a minimum $20 deposit before i can use their API, the $5 is an extra amount in case it does charge a little for some reason.

Over 100 Missed calls within a few minutes.

(Jan 30, 2018 08:39 PM)Lukasu Shemazio Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) use firertc. could save you some money. you either misunderstand what this tool is for or you are confused, firertc is something very different :)

firertc is only to place calls through a single phone number not automatically initiate a call with a combination of many different phone numbers.

please dont post non topic relative stuff in this thread, if you wish to inform people about firertc make a new thread.

Thanks for understanding.

Noted, now please let this thread be used only for sales.

Unless you have something useful to say don't post.

Unless you have something useful to say don't post. What he said was useful as it seemed like he was trying to help you and you turned on it being very defensive. Not a good way to show your customers how you handle situations. Best of luck i thought he was suggesting to the readers of this thread to use firertc instead of this product, i probably misunderstood him.

now that you say he was only suggesting the use of firertc api instead of what i am using to save money i understand that he was trying to help and i will look into it.

:) My apologies to him for being defensive, was a misunderstanding.

i checked your suggestion, FireRTC is only US, Puerto Rican, or Canada :(the API i use allows nearly all countries.

Lextian - January 31, 2018, 8:32 pm

Posting here to find this later, this might come handy.

I-GANK-I - February 1, 2018, 4:31 pm

i have to say this since many people contact for vouch copy.

:) the Trial Vouch Copy will be given 24 hours individually (there is only 1 slot per 24 hours for Trial Vouch Copies)

this is due to that i only have access to one API and i cant share it between multiple people without creating havoc, if you purchase this i will setup custom API for you (That's why you dont pay a fee for the trial but do pay if you purchase)

Thanks for understanding.

please dont send any more requests for vouch, i will respond to the people who get will receive a vouch copy in time :)

Sorry for the delay, thanks for understanding.

Rezy - February 2, 2018, 5:31 am

I received a 24 hour vouch copy and here is my review.

First off i just want to say i LOVE this program & the amount of fun i had with it was crazy, I first off when i got it, i tried it on myself:

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

The phone calls came through instantly and were so annoying, you couldn't stop them or anything, If you close the program it will stop calling though. But that's what made it fun.

Also, there were multiple numbers and mostly a different number every time making it impossible to block.

HUGE vouch for OP, I loved the program and will be purchasing it in the future.

Autophobia - February 2, 2018, 8:34 am

Now can't someone simply block the 10 numbers and it be useless? I know with a lot of services you can just block numbers instantly

i am working on a solution that wont require phone number, it will just call anonymously or generate a random spoofed number :) if i will manage to pull this off -$10 a month will go off the price since phone numbers no longer will be necessary.

i am really doing my best to make this as cheap as possible, dont celebrate yet.. i am still working on this.

If you get this working I'll be more than happy to pay that 150 source / project price

Is this program by any chance using twilio?

HIGH PAID FELLA - February 2, 2018, 3:33 pm

its already working but i removed this feature temporary because if people pickup the call it charges the account, the API has unlike my current API no way of canceling the call when its made to prevent account from being charged.

Its no secret, it is but i made it so it doesn't charge my twilio account :)

Text me back in PM if its able to war dial overseas numbers or if its only limited to USA numbers.
Are there additional costs for the calls?

its able to dial overseas, it costs $1 per mobile phone number a month.
$20 is one time balance that you need to have on your API account.

i made it so calls wont charge by default (through sending missed calls only) , however i can custom code it to Ring but downside will be that your API account will get charged a little if target picks up phone call.
