This is really cool, looks very much like retro futurism, so if that's what you were going for you nailed it.

I love how the feature object (the person), despite being yellow, doesn't draw away from the rest of the image. Good job!

I got a little depressed looking at this, it is very morbid in my opinion but very interesting to say the least on that. Good work.

Beautiful fucking work. I have no clue how you got a red font to work with a pale blue sky theme, but whatever.
