Thread: LuminosityLink

SIMPR - February 3, 2018, 10:32 pm

so i been working around of luminositylink and i found some ways to create a server so you can use your own details to login but somehow creating a stub crashes

im still developing on how i can bypass the server reconnection period even tho i managed to open it. i cannot use it so far.

but once i find a way to spoof the server ip requesting from the app then we'll be able to use the app just fine.

Dont use! it was raided

So you're cracking it? Nice! Maybe you should find a stub somewhere and create your own builder if you can't get the built it one working, it probably doesn't work because it has to contact LuminosityLink servers to build.

correct but thats why im working on a spoof so it could probably work tell me something that i didnt know and also where's the proof

Vyxn - February 4, 2018, 6:12 pm

If it is server sided then I bet you can't get the stub as the server was already been down.

that is if..
but still doesnt mean that i cant create a stub builder/compiler

Discussion and cracking of software is disallowed on this site.

Don't spread some bullshit that was never confirmed.
That's just a theory and nobody will never know unless it goes public.

Yes. More. Show them their inability to use their brains! Anyone who thought otherwise has a faulty brain or is extremely naïve.

That was posted today though, I wouldn't expect everyone to know about it.

Please, many many months ago it was already obvious.

If it was posted today, why would you expect that I hear about it instantly?

There have been warnings, upon warnings, upon warnings, many, many, months ago. If it was your first time hearing this then I don't know what to say.

No, there were just crazy theories that people couldn't prove.

This was just found out today. Lol.

And no, somebody disappearing isn't proof of anything.

Funny how it all turns out to be... exactly right, doesn't it?

I think you missed the point, we all know it was right, the point is before today everything said was merely speculation. Nothing more.

Not sure why you're being to ignorant about it.

It was all unconfirmed and speculation, period.

People can say anything and people could believe it.

I chose to not care enough if there wasn't confirmation.

You are such a low quality member hydrophobic - April 10, 2018, 12:51 am

Just saying, it's actually quite easy.

Don't know why it was crashing for you but for me it gave an error because the server was taken down, you have to spoof it like you said, or you could remove it completely.
