I can resolve this once you pay the money you hold 155 XLM , 77 NXT & 20$ cash

I waited for you to send my money more than 1.5 month how much you expect from me ?

Clockworks - February 4, 2018, 9:09 am

So from what I understand, you wanted to exchange 50$ worth of INR to XLM?

And instead of giving you the XLM he used your money to pay off a debt?

It seems 'Incredible' is admitting to your allegations by saying he purposely used your money, and had no intentions of actually doing the exchange until months later due to his financial situation.

And now he is simply not fulfilling it, even without his debt, because you called him out.

Good luck solving this. Seems 'Incredible' cares more about his pride than his reputation.

You admit to owing the guy money for months, you do not agree to pay him back in the funds agreed to but instead the same currency dealt with.

You claim he only posted this thread to ruin your 7 year membership, but the chat logs clearly show, he discussed, got fed up with your answer and THEN posted the Dispute.

You have replied to the dispute shortly fter he posted, and then open your own against him????

You sir, need to straighten the fuck up and deal with your deals accordingly.

Lol, keep your financial troubles within yourself. If you can't pay someone for the work they have done then you're not at all worth dealing out here. And what was that? 7 year reputation? Within those 7 years, all of your deals were just like this? Delete this thread or you not gonna pay him lol. You should be banned for literally blackmailing him. Guys like you damage this community. And you've also created a fake scam thread with fake skype screenshots... Try to be some matured ass. Don't do such newbie edit shits lol... Even a 6 year old would have done a great edit LOL
