Thread: [\[Winner Announced\] Official Group Graphics | Samaritans | \$200 Reward](#)

?BowmanBot? - February 4, 2018, 2:31 pm

We are requesting that graphics be done for an official group.

Name of the group: Samaritans

Description: Our group is dedicated to give a helping hand and posting tutorials and guides for various subforums.

We are here to teach and help users grow their skill sets in all areas across Hack Forums.

What we need:

- User Bar

136x42

- Banner

600x200

We would like you to be as creative as possible and we will pick the one that we like the most.

Winner will receive $200 USD for their work.

#Doge has won the competition with this submission.

Thank you all for participating.

Hydraxus - February 4, 2018, 2:38 pm

Is this going to be an official HackForums group? Or will it be for another site?

Hope it's for HackForums, would love to see a group from you.

This will be an official group on Hack Forums. The group was formerly known as Torque.

Thank you, we have big plans for the group and hope it will become a great addition to the forums.

I was working on something last night, I'll try to finish up the concept when I'm back from college.

G--D - February 6, 2018, 5:18 am

Here is my attempt Please let me know your feedback thank you :

.Pazuzu - February 6, 2018, 6:28 am

This is my first concept, let me know what you think (I think you'll get a lot more entries and stuff you like if you give some examples of what you're after)

I went with the theme of Samaritans, a helping hand (I didn't want to make a generic UB, but I don't really know the styles around here)

I made a type that looks like it's made from stone, with shading and subtle detail, the wing and halo were illustrated by me, and then I edited the type to make it the same theme. All colours are subject to change.

Items used \(Click to View\)

After putting them together in Illustrator and playing around with the positioning (Still not sure I like it) I got this;

Illustrator \(Click to View\)

A little bit of touching up in Photoshop gave me this;

Photoshop \(Click to View\)

And then to preview what it looks like on HF, with the correct sizes;

Preview \(Click to View\)

So let me know what you think, I've got a few other half finished concepts, and some more ideas, but if you want me to peruse this one, let me know. Also, if you looked at this and didn't like a single thing about it, be honest so I can try some other stuff, and make something you like.

Thanks, Pazuzu ?

I'm no PS guru, but here's an idea that someone can work on.

A front-facing standing bird icon on the left with its head looking to the right, preferably vectorized and light-colored (try white for starters). Its wings spread to the right, but printed in code (think Matrix, high-contrast green or blue). Then overlay the "Samaritans" text on the wing and make it stand out (try reddish text with a very thin white outline for starters).

Make a trail for a black halo on top of the bird's head too.

i like the details and it looks damn clean , however i would suggest to put something relevant on the middle .

either a heart or whatever you think the best icon / symbol for the word 'samaritans' edit : this is the best so far
