Im looking for something really badass like Akame Ga Kill

Tried Black Lagoon but at episode 9-10 i was like ehrrrrrrrrrr, dont know if i want to keep watching. This Revy girl tries to hard at being edgy and this Maid is cringe af.

If anyone can help me that would be awesome ? Its been so long since i've watched an anime that really caught my attention..

Fate/stay night series, especially Unlimited Blade Works
Anime looks too good and it's something like hunger games.

Well Jiren you included Fullmetal Alchemist and sadly this anime is over looked quite often. I love this anime and was re watching the series i am on episode 5 after a day but had to stop because of work but ill be watching it more today. I can say most anime in my collection i've watched at least 3 times full seasons but i have not watched attack on titan season 2 just yet i downloaded it but work has been very very busy. One Punch Man is also good but i wanted to reccomend a few people commonly over look but are not any specific gene.

TriGun

Cowboy Bebop

Gundam (00/wing/Mobile Suit) (Turn A Gundam ugh...lol)

Digimon (Some Classify as cartoon/ Anime but i still love it) I suggest season 1 as a starting point just because i was not overly fond of the newer seasons after cards and things where added. it reminded me too much of Yuigioh (but i also loved it but digimon did not need cards to be awesome)

I will list more later when i get an email to reset my seed box password (around 2TB of just anime series... that and some TV & Movies.)

Fullmetal Alchemist: Brotherhood is sooooo good!! Lots of lessons to get too. And if you're not yet watching Naruto, it's one of best anime series every created!! The action scenes will get you rooting for one character against the other! Those two are my favorite animes of all time and have lots of action and fighting scenes going on.
