Thread: NY School Cancels 'Hunchback of Notre Dame' Because white Student Is Cast

Good old classic you can't be racist because their white :D

<https://www.nbcnewyork.com/news/local/Spring-Musical-Ithaca-High-School-Casting-Canceled-White-Esmerelda-Notre-Dame-473275113.html>

Two things come to mind

Firstly, wtf is wrong with these students? While I was in school I would not have gave 2 shits about any musical and especially would not gave a shit about some kid being cast who is not the original skin color of a character.

Secondly if this had happened while I was in school I feel like all student involved would be in trouble for the obvious racism, I mean imagine if students complained that a white role was given to a non white student ???

lol, this school is an hour away from me. Actually played them in baseball once in high school. They're a predominantly white school, so it's probably full of SJW retards crying about it because some black/hispanic girl didn't get the role even though Esmerelda is middle eastern/Indian in the book.

People are too sensitive nowadays. I mean, there are things worth fighting for and cancelling for but this is definitely not one of it.

It's 2018. The Nazi's have been gone since 1945.

Yeah I highly doubt all this would happen if any other non-white ethnicity got the role, hell why arn't people complaining that the kid playing Quasimodo is not actually born with a hunchback or that all the other characters are not actually french, all these damn racists xD

Its interesting to me to see that most of the SJW movements were in some way shape or form heavily funded by George Soros. Like for instance BLM was given 650,000 dollars by soros. It amazes me the influence that majority has over reason. Things like this make the saying "monkey see monkey do" more prevalent among the masses. It also amazes me to see how much ground these movements have covered in schools and universities essentially make them totalitarian establishments.

People are to obsessed with being a part of some kind of movement that they don't even care what that movement stands for or is a part of, or most importantly who is funding it and what their intentions are.
