Thread: [Partner search for startup hosting company. \[Trusted, Experienced\]](#)

CanadianBacon - February 9, 2018, 6:33 am

Hello hf members,

I am looking for a couple partners to help kick start my hosting company.
No investments are needed as I already have the necessary resources. (Servers cpanel whmcs etc.) I have already done the investing.

What I need from you as a partner:

1. A loyal employee who will excell in his/her field of work.
2. Have knowledged in one or more of these fields: (web dev, support, server administration)
3. You need to be available 12h per day (support agent)
4. At least a highschool diploma. (Min. 65 in English)

I will not be paying you a salary, the profits will be split respectfully by % corresponding to your time spent online and working.

Currently I need help with web dev and someone who can cover support while im not online.

Thanks. Please leave your applications below. Don't pm me unless it's about something else.

Application template for lazy People:

- Code 1. Will you be a loyal employee who will excell in his/her field of work: yes/no (why?)
2. Have knowledged in one or more of these fields: (web dev, support, server administration): yes/no (which?)
3. Will you be available 12h per day (support agent): yes/no
4. At least a highschool diploma. (Min. 65 in English): yes/no
5. Are you willing to provide some ID for legal and safety purposes: yes/no
6. Previous experience? Yes/no (where?)

Where are you located? I'm in the midst of starting a UK host so if that's something you'd like to consider then please let me know.

Just noticed your username - silly me. Let me know if you're still interested.

I am pretty interested in your business. I already have links with a UK datacentre. Maybe we can talk some more on discord? I have a few questions to ask you.
