Thread: This fake news about Elon Musk is being spread by all other news companies

mawrek - February 10, 2018, 4:37 pm

someone posted a dumbass bizarre post on reddit:

https://www.reddit.com/r/Showerthoughts/comments/7vr6v7/elon_musk_got_away_with_the_perfect_murder_by/and now i keep seeing this on all (fake) news companies (my local and foreign).

<https://www.dailystar.co.uk/news/world-news/680294/Elon-Musk-Spacex-Falcon-Heavy-Reddit-murder-plot>
<http://mysteriousuniverse.org/2018/02/the-dial-musk-for-murder-spacex-falcon-heavy-conspiracy/>
<https://www.rt.com/usa/418097-musk-mars-conspiracy-murder/>

etc

"Elon Musk got away with the perfect murder by sending the body to mars"

LOL, I wouldn't have even thought about that.

Oh man that's so hilarious ?

If you actually read the articles, you'll know that they just c&p on this showerthought hype train in order to gain some more clicks online. They don't actually post fake news, instead they post clickbait.

And those news sites are exactly the ones you need to ignore if you're interested in actual news.

LOL, I wouldn't have even thought about that.

He probably would've, though. He's the kind of guy to do stuff like that IMo

If he was the kind of guy to do stuff like that, he would have been in jail.

OP you really need to learn how to read articles and how to understand them, ugh.

These sites don't spread any "fake" news, it's just entertainment.

I'm not saying he would that specifically. What he does will never be known, that's why he isn't in jail.

I mean that would be a crazy way to hide a body but holy shit people actually reporting on this is some next level stupidity.

Clickbait, you mean. The people actually clicking the links are the ones being the 'product' here.

It's just a joke. It isn't meant for face value.
