If you need guidance on how your review or appraisal should look, check out [\[Community Alert\] Official Appraisers Review Archive](#)

We will use this thread as a new member farm, and thus recruitment will never close. We will accept or deny members on a rolling basis.

Requirements

As a group that dedicates itself to appraising products and services, funds and ownership confirmation, as well as acting as a marketplace watchdog, we are the first line of defense between a great marketplace transaction, and a bad community experience for someone.

Good luck to everyone who applies. This is a unique group which seeks to help users have a positive market experience.

Remember to take your time when writing reviews. I would recommend checking out a few older reviews first which may help you with the layouts and how much content to include etc.

Good luck to each one of you applying guys, great opportunity right here.

What Country and Timezone do you Reside in?

USA / EST

How much time can you devote towards group activities per week?

I'm sure you're well aware of my time that I am able to devote having previously been a part of the group. Realistically, I would be able to devote around 72 hours minimum, assuming I'd have enough people wanting reviews, appraisals, confirmations, etc. I'd be glad to re-join the group and provide more contributions in addition to innovating the ones I've made towards the group in the pasts.

Have you been a part of any official groups in the past?

Yes, I have been a part of multiple. Below is a list of groups I have been a part of, but not limited to them. Legends

SheepGang

Skill

Appraisers

Synergy

The Executives

And more...

Maximalism's Service Review for "[Pro Animations In Minutes With Drag & Drop Simplicity \[Beginner Friendly\]](#)", Thread by Eduard Stinga

Before I begin my review, I would like to thank you for giving us ("Appraisers"), the opportunity to review your product.

When I am reviewing your eBook, these are the following things I have looked at and will be followed up in my post later.Presentation of information and clarifications if necessary.

Your content originality versus known content.

The difficulty of setting up one's own panel versus utilizing one.

Cost of the product versus actual worth.

Beginning to review this user's product, one of the first things that I noticed was this user's response time. The user replied in a timely manner greeting me nicely and in proper English. The content of this user's product is overall fairly simple to use. From my personal experience, he simply sent me a PM with the link to the product and like I said before, greeting me with kind words. I am pleased to say that as a graphic designer's perspective the product this user provided was outstanding. I personally find it very difficult to mentor others regarding graphic design, however, this user's product is definitely something that is out of the box. The video shows an in-depth step-by-step guide on how to create animated videos, that anyone can learn with the right mindset. The product is a simple, yet effective video that is extremely informative in regards to creating these videos.

The content originality is most definitely outstanding. I've never seen something so simplistic, yet so effective before. Especially when it is being given out for free. If this product was not given out for free by this user, it would more than likely lie in an edited version as a product being sold on HackForums. In regards to this statement, I would have to say that the price that this user is selling the product at is amazing. He is giving a product out that is currently free, that could have easily been sold to various individuals who were looking to get started on graphic design. Not only is this product easy to learn from, it is free, and there is no harm in getting anything for free.

Final Thoughts

This user's product is overall great and I would definitely thank him / her for giving it away, HOWEVER... based simply on the user's profile it would seem that he / she is more than likely a very suspicious individual. As of the date of this post, he / she joined only a week ago, and the fact that they would make a giveaway so soon just rings some bells in a sense. This is simply my personal opinion in the matter.

Like I said, the overall product is great and the presentation this user provided on the thread was also done very nicely. Not only is an explainer video provided, but a brief example of how the product would look is also provided.

If anyone reading this is interested in graphic design / animations, this product is completely free and can help benefit your future skills tremendously!

Maximalism's Product Appraisal for "OG Snap \(R*ch\)", Thread by kxvin

Before I begin my review, I would like to thank you for giving us ("Appraisers"), the opportunity to appraise your product.

The first thing I notice when seeing this Snapchat account is the originality. This is a Snapchat that has never / rarely been seen in the market before, and would most definitely drive a significant amount of demand from the right people (with the right advertising). Something that has been trending for the past decade is the thought of being at a higher economic standpoint essentially meaning you are living a better life. Although this statement is not necessarily true, the amount of people that would be interested in this Snapchat is significantly greater than the number of people interested most Snapchats to date.

I would personally appraise this account to be ~$1800-$2500. These numbers are at a significant jump mainly because there are not a vast amount of Snapchats on this specific level of rareness. Something that I would recommend is showing proof of ownership, because many people would assume that you may not own this account because it is so rare.

I do wish everyone good luck in your applications and hope to bring on board new members to Appraisers.

Please keep in mind that we look for well written content, so effort means a lot in your applications.

If I were to be the one to personally review your applications, I would personally look at your ability to work with limited resources when doing such reviews, but I do, nonetheless, believe future applicants should take a look at our archive of already written reviews and appraisals of products and services. This will help you in articulating a well-written application, but by no means does that give you the right to plagiarize already written content by Appraisers members but do use it as a foundation to help you get started.

Wish everyone the best of luck!

Product: AMAZON DEALER - THE ALL INCLUSIVE GUIDE TO COLLECT GIFT CARDS by "Ombra"

I bought this product a few months ago and this is my full review

So this method as advertized is a guide on how to acquire Amazon gift cards for free.

This method will take you at least 20 days of work/waiting before you can receive your first gift card. After that point you can get one or so daily, if you have set up enough accounts in preparation to do so.

This method is original and i can see how it would work in principle.

The 20 day setup time is quite long and because of that many members might not even bother trying it out fully, which all people thinking about purchasing this should consider before buying.

It should also be said that it will require a decent time investment before you will be even close to seeing any money coming in. On that point i would say it is probably not worth the hassle for you if you have very limited free time in your everyday life.

The main problem of this method though is glaringly obvious once you start trying to set it up properly. This method requires that multiple people besides yourself help you in the process of getting the gift cards in the end.

Now it is technically possible for you to not need other people's help to get this method working, but that would require a much higher level of time investment as well as almost a headache of things to keep track of.

Now as i said you need help from others for this method to work well overall, and the big problem with that is that there simply are not enough people using this method at all at the moment, so you can't get that help you so dearly need. When i started with this method there was at most only one other using the method still, and therefore i had basically no help at all getting things ready to get my gift cards.

This resulted in me trying to do it all on my own.

I decided to start 3 accounts to interact with each other, and hoped that that would be enough to get everything going around so i could at least get a gift card or two over time.

But this was clearly not enough. As some other person in the method group said you should use at least 6-7 accounts if you are doing it by yourself to make it work, and that person was probably correct.

Me only using those few accounts for everything needed ended with all of them being banned within a week or so of setting it all up.

After those first 3 accounts were banned i never went back to the method to try it again. I Personally saw no point in it. The time i would need to invest to have a chance of making it work was just much, much too high.

Keep in mind that only having 3 accounts active still took hours of time investment to keep up the schedule of the method.

Now OP was Kind enough to offer me a 50% refund at one time when i pointed out the issues i was facing with the method, so kudos to him for that.

Also if it was not already obvious i did in the end not make anything from this method, and since i never intend to try it again, i will not do so in future either.

Final Thoughts

As i said i do believe this method can work fairly well in principle. But as i also mentioned, at this time it simply does not due to the issues highlighted above.

If this method worked properly, and the issue above was not present, then i could probably have said it was overall worth the price and time investment needed. But since that is not the case i can simply not recommend you buy this product at this time.

If the issues of this method are at some point fixed, and it sees a resurgence of users using the method at the same time, then, and only then would i say this might be worth a purchase.

how is the amazon review minimal? it is well explained and tested imo. The review before that is also fairly detailed to me, though of course i can reformat it if that is wanted.

the appraisal i looked through the entire section and seeing as i have no experience with OG usernames there was not much i could look at. also from the other appraisals in the same section that i looked at, they showed the same kind of setup, which i thought would serve as a the template for my work for the application. i reworked it a bit to since it was clearly lacking. and i can of course make more detailed appraisals in future.

Product: [<<MYTHICAL REVENUE>> \[EARNING PROOF\] VOUCHED CONFIRMED WORKING // START TODAY](#) by "FRI?DBAO™"

This eBook includes 3 methods and consists of 20 pages.

Now first i will talk about everything not related to the methods.

The language in this eBook is decent, though there are multiple glaring grammatical errors and just wrongly placed words at certain points in the eBook.

This is not at all helped by what i would say is a bizarre choice of font for the text.

The letters look very weird at times, which makes it hard enough to read through even without the errors in grammar here and there.

Truly i think the choice of font here is just plainly wrong. I do not see why it is this way at all. It would be much more readable and understandable if it was just using a more regular/normal type of font. I hope you consider changing this.

Next i want to talk about the start of this eBook.

Not to cause any offence OP, but having a full page with your "story", talking about how you struggled & how you managed to start making money yourself is frankly pointless and not needed.

The people that buy this eBook are not interested in what you did and your life, but in how they can themselves make money and improve their own lives.

Again, i don't mean to cause offence, but i just think it does not at all need to be in there.

A few lines about it is more than enough to satisfy everyone.

Also as a last point i would like to say that i do not understand why you have these "chapters" in your eBook. to me they have no purpose in making it easier to read nor separate the content much at all. Having it split without including the words "chapter 1" and so forth would work just as well.

Now finally, let us talk about the methods included in this eBook.

As i mentioned at the start of the review 3 methods are included.

The 1st method is somewhat original on here, but will require you to physically go outside and do the work yourself. I can see this working if you are able to find the things as OP does himself, but to me this requires you live either centrally in a fairly big city, or live in a country that this sort of thing is common.

In my home country of Norway, i see this being very hard to actually make much of anything off of. But as i said, it is possible.

The 2nd method is thankfully something you can do fully online. The 2nd method, like the 1st, will require a fair amount of time investment to initially get started with, but will get much easier once it is all set up.

If this method will work for you or not is to me basically a coin flip.

I think it can work sure, but to me this is a very yes/no method in terms of it making you much of anything.

Personally i would not recommend it unless you have a good amount of spare time.

The 3rd method is the best one included in here, and this is why.

Unlike the first 2 methods this will require some time investment sure, but not close to as much as the ones mentioned above.

Based on this alone i am liking this more than the others included here.

Now if this method will work or not for you is more of a 80/20 yes for me. I think this method has the best chances of success of the 3 included.

The method is overall well explained and OP shows how to get it up and running without too much fuss.

The method seems to be grayhat on the site it is used on however so if you get banned for it you should not be too surprised.

Then again OP does show how you can make money with this method in 2 different ways, so if one doesn't work for you the other one might.

Final Thoughts

Overall i find this eBook to be acceptable in quality, but i think it has some ways to go before being fully worth the price that is being asked for it.

At this point in time i think there are many other products that have more bang for you buck in this current marketplace.

If OP changes his eBook in some way or form because of my feedback, i will consider coming back to reevaluate it at some point.

revised appraisal of product

Appraisal for Art from my Sister

Product Quality and Originality: Art is always something that is hard to price as each person has a different view of the value of each and every piece. Personally I view the above artwork as fairly good for someone I expect is still young. The first painting in particular i do personally like due to the vastness of space it represents, while also at the same time capturing something beautiful about our world and universe. The other two are a bit more tame to me, but i like the detail and use of color in them.

Appraisers Suggested Retail Price: The 1st artwork picturing the whale I would price at around $20-30. The other two I would price at $5-10. These are the prices i would expect for them at a general online auction, such as Ebay for example.

Also, I'm sure flooding the thread with posts in efforts to get noticed isn't going to impress Lrr or any of the other leaders.

i also don't appreciate you assuming things without having the actual facts. i was not flooding imo. but sure if you want to say that i suppose you are entitled to that view. but i was in no way doing that to get "noticed" by anyone. that you would assume so or imply i was doing so frankly offends me. I do not care about much on here, but i do not tolerate people assuming things about me without any basis in truth.

also when you imply my "minimal effort" on that appraisal. sure, i should have been more detailed and all with it, but i in now way slacked off on it because i didnt bother writing more. after looking at many appraisals by other members in the same section, i saw they were all short and to the point. as i expect that to be the template i am supposed to follow i did the same. if i am supposed to follow some different guideline sure, but then i need to see what i am supposed to use as a template instead.
