Thread: KRYLL \(ICO STAGE\) - AUTOMATED CRYPTO TRADING STRATEGIES MADE SIMPLE - GIANTE FUTURE

Zinedine Zidane - February 14, 2018, 4:57 pm

Do not be fooled, cryptotrading requires a lot of time and personal investment. For example, not everyone can get up in the middle of the night to manage their orders, drop their friends or their wife and children for a call, or camp in front of their computer to stop loss or short a coin all day long. The tools offered are sometimes limited and it is not easy to navigate and we easily miss good opportunities ... FOMO, stress, sleep exploded at the expense of some satoshis ... The purpose of trading is still to make some money no?

To be effective in trading, you often have to spend your life there (and I speak knowingly) ... And frankly it's very often to repeat the same actions and the same mistakes, again and again ... So we said that there must have been a service that made it possible to "build", like LEGO bricks, trading strategies. A simple and visual trick that would trigger a succession of linked actions from his smartphone; to be able to create automations trading, alerts etc ... all in a simple way.

Well, no ... there is nothing. It's nothingness! And from this nothingness, an idea sprouted ...

Kryll.io is a platform that will offer accessible, visual and intuitive tools allowing everyone to finally create his strategies as he sees fit. This is not yet another pseudo-miraculous bot that will earn you so-called billions, or a revolutionary artificial intelligence that trades, makes coffee and takes care of your mother-in-law ... No, intelligence is all of us, The only one intelligence is your brain and your trading skill; and the top is to succeed in automating the way he thinks, the way he trades!

The platform will offer an easy-to-use editor to "build" its strategies a bit like LEGO bricks, using drag & drop. Whether you are a beginner cryptotrader or the wolf of wall street, everyone can express their creativity! All this will be done in the cloud and can be created and launched from any computer. No more need to leave his laptop on, having to rent a machine to do it, or having to have a heavy client on his computer etc ...

Good, and if you do not want to create your own strategy? There will be a marketplace with strategies already created by other users and ready to use. You will also have the opportunity to test these strategies for free in "sandbox" ie without betting anything.

Eventually there will be the possibility of creating "strategies" based on AI, analysis of feelings, machine learning, neural network and especially interpretation of market signals.

Kryll is developed in France, a stone's throw from Sophia Antipolis, the French "Silicon Valley" by a team of expert blockchain developers from the world of cryptocurrency mining for many of them. (more info on LinkedIn)
