He wanted $210 for $200 ETH. I sent him the money via PayPal, and he stated that he would forward me the money. He ignored a few PM's from me asking for the currency, and has since been logged off.

Proof of payment:

His initial PM to me:

<https://prnt.sc/ig7nv0>

I stated I can do that for him, and he replied with the following:

<https://prnt.sc/ig7o6e>

I said that is no problem, I sent the payment, and forwarded my ETH address. He replied with the following:

<https://prnt.sc/ig7oix>

I have since messaged him a few more times with my ETH address, and warning him of opening a scam report.

That would be appreciated. I'm sure it's just miscommunication, or he may have forgot to send it. I don't think he's intending to do this.

Just scammed me regarding an LTC Exchange. (His reputation seemed clean over initial look)

Am taking swift action against him and his PayPal account via their support and contact team.
