Thread: [Forum Team Page \[Suggestion\]](#)

illuminati? - February 17, 2018, 8:58 pm

Okay I had a suggestion for the forum team page, It would make it look a bit more clean, and it would be easier for new members so the don't pm omni or another admin with a question when they could contact a staff member.

So I made a quick little example in paint.
Basically it would Say administrators
List all of the Admin profiles.
Then it would say something like Staff or Staff team.
Then list them.

example made in paint;

Obviously my example looks like shit, because I kinda just made it quickly.
But something like that to specify I guess.

You could even add Mentors to the page, because they are kind of staff members in a sense.

Would be a good suggestion for Phixel to add in for the new theme. Don't think it's worth making any layout changes on this theme.

I think this would be a good idea to clean things up for new members.

Nice one.

Would that be a theme change though? I feel like this is a css change.

Either way, would be a decent change as long as it requires minimal tweaking.

P.S: Omni isn't interested in having Mentors displayed publicly as they aren't staff and shouldn't be used to replace them.

I'm aware, but it might be a good thing to list them, that way new members can ask a mentor first opposed to asking a staff member, unless the mentor isn't aware.

Forum Staff page will likely be altered to look like this:

<https://knotbb.com/memberlist.php>

Yea, it would. It's CSS plus MyBB PHP functions within HTML layout change. So for sure a theme change.

I'm just for this. Could care less about the rest, but purely this.

Omni has said over the years that he does not want to add Mentors to the list or give Mentors a page because we are not staff members.

I believe all the Mentors are listed in the Wiki ?

He wants that page altered so that there are two section:

Admins

Staff

Right now they are presented as "Forum Staff and Admins" instead of being specific to which member belongs in which group. Obviously the userbar should be a hint but default MyBB their forum team page separates the groups.

That looks great!

Really pleased with the work Phixel is doing on KnotBB. ?
