General Topics

All those forums are now moderated by the Mentor group. They have access to reported posts and each can provide up to 3 warnings per day. This will help reduce LQP and ensure the quality of the section continues to increase.

Hopefully all will go well and more sections will be granted to Mentors for moderation.

Thank you.

NoSuchAgency - February 18, 2018, 12:18 pm

Hell yeah. Glad to see mentors granted additional power!

Grammar Rays - February 18, 2018, 12:20 pm

Do you list the members of the Mentors user group?

Sounds good, should help clear up the low quality posting, I'll continue to report posts I see in there as well to help make the job easier.

Thanks for the updates, Omni.

Crystallize. - February 18, 2018, 12:24 pm

Thank you Omni, we will make sure to keep the sections clean.

Elitas - February 18, 2018, 12:29 pm

That's a great addition to the site Omni, LQP will certainly be reduced. I've really noticed a lot of activity in the Mentor usergroup since they were added back and I'm hoping this will continue.

Confound - February 18, 2018, 2:27 pm

Very excited that things are in motion now, thanks.

For the most part they can be found here, on the right hand side under the title, "All Members."

Best of luck. ?

OT: That's pretty swell. They were moderators of places like The Lounge too before their removal, right?

And yes, I can see that some Mentors have already given out Warnings via the logs. Very nice. ?

That page should be fully up to date. We've been working to get all the new additions up as quickly as possible.

Glad to see Mentors can now help control The Lounge.

the6ix - February 18, 2018, 3:48 pm

I'm really happy on how the lounge is so active now...

Really stoked on the new improvements as well.

Sigma - February 18, 2018, 4:13 pm

Definitely a good idea. I was actually just speaking to Divined about creating a group that moderates these areas to report posts and threads. I am sure this will take care of all of that now.

B0Trun - February 18, 2018, 4:27 pm

Happy to see that Mods got power and can limit the low quality posts by warning

King Joey - February 18, 2018, 4:37 pm

Very nice! Keep up the good work guys!

We lost moderation in so many sections.

I was hoping for computing too (RIP iOS).

He will add them soon enough.

Glad to have permissions back. Now with a twist (the reported posts).

Evanescant - February 18, 2018, 9:08 pm

That's really nice move. Would help STAFF members to get rid of that burden.

Biggy - February 18, 2018, 9:49 pm

Quick question about Mentors; will you ever have a cap on how many you'll have at a certain time, or will you just add people as you go along that you deem fit?

There's never been a cap, nor a known set criteria.

We have so many active mentors now, but with overtime the activity decreases and Omni removes permission from Mentors. New ones(not necessarily) are added who are more active.

I think Omni would be even stricter when it comes to Mentors now, as Mentors have Mod CP permissions.

N1I0c - February 18, 2018, 11:53 pm

Sounds good. I've always liked the members of Mentors and I'm sure they'll do a good job.

Canadian - February 19, 2018, 3:23 am

I'm glad the staff will have some assistance!

Mentors are an invite only group.

Diabolic - February 19, 2018, 8:48 am

I like that Mentors can do more of the workload now. After what we had happen, it's nice to have Mentors back to where it should of been.

Woah. Been a while since I've seen you last post. How's life post-mentorship? :)

To do awful things like hack their Smart Home tech. Going to spoil their milk but whacking their fridge temperature right up.

Jokes. You seem awfully suspicious!

I was curious how big the team is now. I remember when Mentors were first launched and was almost for ex staff and some select individuals. I've been away from HF a lot and see the group has clearly got much bigger now which is a good thing.

You used to list some user groups but I realise we are in a state of transition right now and so some things are temporarily unavailable. Was wondering if perhaps listing Mentors was one of these things.

Nah Mentors have never been listed (except maybe in a userscript) on HF. The Wiki does keep track of them if you are just curious.

Best thing about Mentors is that they are just members who can passively moderate while they browse the forum normally.

Thanks Omni. Now I can get to terrorizing the citizens ?
