I literally can't see these being anything other than carded or cracked.

Would appreciate if OP was a little more insightful as to how these were obtained, saying that they are on your account and that you own many games, then proceeding to give users different accounts that have PS+ doesn't add up.

Seems like you might just be re-selling cracked accounts bought on another forum starting with M
Correct me if I'm wrong though, I'd love to be wrong here.
