TaylorCTU? - February 25, 2018, 6:39 pm

Hello HF! I would just like to showcase my new forum created in December of 2017. I have been away from forums since early 2014 when I closed my big board ezeegaming due to school and 2 jobs. I have regretted it ever since. Due to that I have made a commitment to see this site through. The goal of this site is to provide a place for all entrepreneurs to discuss, share, promote, and collaborate. We also have general, tech, and more forums to appeal to everyone. We are new but already have a growing, helpful, and friendly community.

Some of our features:

Promote your personal site/blog here

Promote your social media content here

Promote/sell your products/services here

Sell graphic design services here

Discuss Cryptocurrency here

Giveaways

Awards, groups, plus many other features!

All feedback is good feedback! Feel free to join us if you are interested. Thanks guys!

Looks like the site is growing.

No topics there interest me, though. If you happen to establish a large web development section let me know. Our section here on HF is dying.

Yeah we are growing at a steady rate. There's a fair amount of web site owners on Goalz. With the site promotion forum I'm sure that will only increase. I could see adding a sub-forum for that. Thanks for the thoughts!

I thought the rule was as long as there was no hacking you were good. I read the rules in the showcase. This doesn't seem to be violating any of them. It's against our rules to post anything hacking related. Please correct me if I'm wrong though.

I personally love the site. Keep up the great work.

Cyclone007 - March 20, 2018, 11:07 pm

Interesting layout. I suppose I'll give it a shot and see what I think. Surely I hope my username isn't already taken over there.
