So yea I was messing around on yt looking for a name

<http://youtube.com/c/Ambitiouss>

That's what I got. What do you think?

Appraisal for Azzid's YouTube Account & Custom Url.

Product Quality and Originality: I don't really see this worth almost anything. Ambitious is a real word, but Ambitiouss with two s's isn't. There isn't much or almost any market for a Youtube url's like these. If you were to include the channel with it, it could have some value since it has 125 subscribers from who about 30-50% are active. The real value is in the small amount of subscribers and the misspelled url really doesn't add any value, but it's just something extra if someone was to buy this from you.

Appraisers Suggested Retail Price: I doubt anyone would buy the account solely for the url, if you were to sell the full account with the url, the account is worth around $3-5.

If you are interested in the Appraisers confirming your ownership of this account, please send a PM to me or any other Appraiser group member.

No value in my opinion.

There are a lot of URLs available on YouTube. I've claimed a few.

I can't see anybody being interested in purchasing this as it has two s's in the URL making it not original.

you can easily find a better one for sale.
