Just updating you guys on my profits in crypto.

Last time I did this I was at around 300k that was just under 2 months ago.

Between now and then I have made smart investments, investing larger amounts of money.

I have put countless hours in to make sure I don't lose my money and I'm certain I will at least make profit.

Cheers for reading.

You have like 1 mil $ and you are spending your time on the internet bragging about it ?

No offence mate but if i were you i would go outside and like maybe go on a world tour and donate some to charity and buy nice stuff and be busy with setting up a business irl.

Well that amount made me smile.

Good Luck with keeping it safe my friend.

I'm in the process of projects, I do have a social life and I have travelled alot mate. Charity, not done that yet, may do in the future.

That's a big amount.

If this is true, then I can't tell you anything more than you nailed it.

And keep that money comin'.

I have more than him, and I constantly brag online why does that matter? It's safer to brag to people who don't know you in real life.

Smack me with 50k please then I can take it and run and claim it was self-defence as the money was the weapon.

If I ever make one mill online I would come here and brag. And donate to some of the users that were nice to me and laugh at the one's that peeved me off. Nice one OP.
