Thread: [\[closed\] How do I lose warning level?](#)

sadfire - March 6, 2018, 1:55 am

I have made a mistake not knowing that posting discord usernames are not allowed so I got a warning, now it is at 25%. Is there a way to lose it or is it lifetime?

It will go away over time.

How fast does it decrease? 5% every week perhaps?

Wait a certain period of time. It doesn't decrease a percentage per week, rather, each offence has a period at the discretion of Staff I believe. You might break a rule and get 20% for one month or you might break another rule and get 50% for 6 months.

Thanks for the reply. I will try to be more careful next time on breaking forum rules.

Will close the thread, thanks for the help.

Warnings expire over time, check your user cp the see the exact expiration date.

Cheers.
