This is my opinion:

Long term 2+ months

250 XMR - Best anonymous crypto atm, it is used and has been experiencing a steady growth for a long time (expect steady growth for a long time)

100 TRX - Not really used atm, but the team seems to be pretty good and the CEO has good connections that may help in the long run trx is 4 cents now. I would say that you can't go wrong with this... it will eventually go up at least in 2020! After 2020 the team has their tokens unlocked so I would be careful after that.

Shorter term (1-2 months)

100 BNB - If you use Binance this is a coin that should give you big gains in the upcoming weeks with the coin burns done by Binance, should sell in a month or so. 9.26 dollars now ---> 15 to 30 dollars in a month easy! Probably more

50 APPC - I like the project and the team is great. It is just an idea but the Beta should be implemented around May so you should have a good return by then. Now 58 cents now ---> 1 dollar easy in 2 months, 2-3 dollars is my guess

XLM could be a viable option but I'm not sure if it has a good risk/reward ratio at the moment

This is for holding, not for trading! Out of these I just hold bnb atm since I daily trade

I refuse to guess when or if it will hit 13k!

Check out Credits and Utrust.

Before investing please research them, those two are great come ups.

I also have Telcoin, just waiting for them to add it to more exchange.

Again look this coins up and make your own decision, have a good one :)

Credits has far too much competition at this point... It may be one of the winners in the long run but I would not put my eggs in it for now.

Ethereum, Neo, Nem, Tron, and many others. I didn't read Credits whitepaper and I just looked at it 5 min but seems like they want to take market from these Utrust doesn't seem that useful since most of the online stores actually work great, but it could do something, just not enough for me to bet on it.

I could see it having some uses in the black market if there is some kind of anonymity involved. Pretty sure it would not be easy to implement that system tho

I wouldn't bet in any of those

Telcoin- Heard about it before but didn't read the whitepaper. Seems to have its uses but won't comment before reading the whitepaper on this one

Also, I am from EU and the phone taxes to other countries are actually 0 or close to 0 following new developments in these last few months so that project may be a little bit too late

This is my opinion but I'm not always right!

Do yourself this favor :

Invest 100$ each in these coins - DBC, TKY, RCHAIN, ICX, CPC(CPChain) for 1 year or 2 years.

Thank me with some of the above coins after 2 years, you can bookmark this post and PM me ?

DBC - Actually a nice one. I'll probably do a little more research on competition but that seems to be a winner project and a winner team. I'll keep an eye on them

TKY - I read the whitepaper and I believe Civic is a better project in the same area.

RChain - More smart contracts!! Who will win the smart contracts war? No1 knows!

ICX - Smart contracts!...

I'll look into cpc later

I actually believe in Draguny Coinmetro ICO. Many positive stuff, few negatives

Mother fucker, fuck this bs crypto currencies. Most of them suck. Put your hard earned money into a Roth IRA with a large total market fund. I use Vanguard and I have invested in the S & P 500 and DOW total

ehi guys

thank you all for your advices!! :) now ill make a decision and see where invest :)

jarodjohn98 - March 8, 2018, 10:24 am

buy credits and zilliqa i think those would be the best option for you
