Thread: Calling all Internet doctors Food poisoning or food allergy? All Opinions welcome

I had a Taco Bell 5$ box that tasted like shit. I vomited from the shit food and Shortly after my legs turned completely red and I got burning hives bumps that spread to my arms. I took an oatmeal bath and don't want to be a pussy and go to the hospital if this will pass. I never had these hives bumps before. Will this pass without going to the hospital or am I gunna die?

I don't believe that there are many medical professions on here. Just call a doctor or a nurse and tell them what's going on. I would take some benadryl as that can help with allergic reactions.

Uhhhh well I've never heard of red legs and bumps from food poisoning. Every time I've had it I've just been super sick and my body basically rejected everything in my stomach and made me puke for hours
