Moderators have removed his posts four times and he is still continuing to sales-trash and lie.

I checked AGAIN earlier and he was again bullshitting and making up COMPLETE lies.

I would say that is feed back, not sales trashing....

I'd recommend that you PM staff directly about this. When they realize that you have reported this numerous times, they will hand out warnings, and when they see the user with multiple warnings for the same offense, he will be dealt with accordingly.

See: Reporting Posts.

Quote:Marketplace Violation

Members are expected to be mature enough not to bash each other's sales threads. For a complete list of violations that fall under this, refer to this document. Below is a summary of the latter, which include the following:

Any post or thread that violates the sectional rules of Marketplace sections;

Bumping of your threads with poor posts such as "I am online" , "I am offering support" or "I am still selling";

Bumping of threads that are not yours with poor posts as mentioned above, as a support team member role;

Discouraging a sale without proper reason;

Pointing to the thread of competitors;

Posting and deleting posts in order to bump threads (PBD); and Reviews copying the format used by the Reviewers.

Customers posting negative reviews is not a violation and should not be reported as such. Users abusing this option will be sanctioned.

I believe it is as everything he said was LIES:

- Cheat is known as "rose" (he bought dream, he knows it. rose is a completely different cheat)
- Cheat is public (it is absolutely not. this is defamatory bullshit)

Closing this. I'll pm staff
