Thread: Scam alert user 'earn' uid='1997450' \$40 btc

Would like to start out by saying this is my own fault. I honestly did not think people would waste their time scamming for $40 but clearly, I'm wrong.

Anyway, im just putting this out there for people to see hopefully others can avoid my mistakes.

I always knew there would be a huge risk to currency exchanging especially when the expected norm is for you to send unreversible currencies first. ?
just a matter of when.

Please add proof to make this a valid DD

Scammers scam for the lowest possible of amount tbh. Money is money no matter how you view it from any perspective. Sorry for your loss, but yeah, you could've checked his recent reputation first before dealing. That's like the first thing you should do before dealing with anyone in here.

Wow, hopefully everything gets solved soon!

That is why they keep scamming, cuz it's too easy.

Just by looking at his REP, there is scammer written all over it.

Damn if you're going to scam at least attempt to make over $40
Should have checked out the REP bro
