Are you a white or red wine kind of guy? When do you enjoy drinking it? What occasions?

I'm do like white wine, but red is really good if served with the correct dishes. White I can drink without food.

Sadly I do not drink. I am one of the few people--maybe the fewest--who finds the taste of the wine bitter and bad. ?

I didn't drink it either before, but there really are some good tastes out there, and they make food taste even better if it's the right dish.

I don't like either but if I had to choose it would be white.

I don't like wine tbh. More of a beer guy.

Wine is not casual. Beer is casual.

Yeah I agree. Beer and then spirits.

I agree, wine is mostly for special occasions if you ask me.

Personally, I prefer red wine. Its only a few white wines that I like, because I'm not much for the fruity acids found within white wine. French Riesling is one of the few types of white wine that I can deal with, and actually enjoy.

I can drink red wine to just about anything but seafood.

I only recently tried a white wine at advertising event, I enjoyed it. Never had red wine, something I'm open too though.

Wine is too pretentious, brewskies are where it's at.

wraxu - March 13, 2018, 6:24 am

Never really had any since I'm 16 and to me it tastes meh.... Other drinks are good tho.

When I do drink wine on very rare occasions, I'll always prefer red wine. White is too acidic for me and makes me feel kinda ill.

Same here! ?

I like white wine because I feel it's "lighter"(?) on the palate. But ideally, I wouldn't drink wine unless offered and I don't have any choice.

It really also depends which kind you're drinking

I get what you're saying.
