Thread: Going to Los Angeles this weekend

Popstar - March 13, 2018, 5:15 am

Going to visit a friend in LA this weekend while my gf goes to her friends bachelorette party. I need some ideas of fun stuff to do there and good restaurants to eat. My friend doesn't get out of his house much but I don't want to just be cooped up inside in such an awesome city!

I wanna know the best dispensaries, restaurants, and fun not-expensive or tourist-y things to do. And if anyone lives out there and has a plug connect lmk too lol

You and your friend can research good places to go. And even if he doesn't go out much, I'm sure he has ideas of good places to go.

Bro download YELP and search "food". Check out the ghetto places with the most reviews/stars.

Looking for better suggestions than google's advertised tourist traps and over priced restaurants but thanks for nothing

Can't offer much advice, except perhaps if you're ever in Hollywood, and you decide to take photos with the people in costumes, they'd expect to be tipped, so be weary! They can be a little pushy if you don't tip them.

Have fun in L.A.! ?

Venice and Monica beach, Shit, dispensaries look up on Weedmaps. Sunset Blvd you can walk down is pretty dope, take Hollywood tours on there. Kogi and & Roscoe's has already been mentioned but get you some Pho if you've never had some or want to try some really good Vietnamese food.
