Thread: Upgrade to HF Leet

Exposer - March 14, 2018, 3:17 am

I'm thinking of upgrading to HF leet.
Thou if anyone can guide me, would be great.

i have 2 queries so far.

1) Is this upgrade is one time permanent or repititive monthly or annual thingy. Not want to put my money on something that has expiry date.

questions of upgraded people:

2) Plus if i upgrade, are there any other sections that is not available to normal users but will be available to upgraded users. (Thinking of pluses ?)

1. This is permanent thing, you just buy it one time.
2. Yes there will be sections normal users can't see, but with L33T you can use them.

It is a permanent upgrade. Definitely worth it if you want to support the forums.

If you're going to actually use this forum and spend your time on it it is very much worth it.

No it's one time payment, but the super le33t is one time day.

It is definitely worth the one off payment.

You're here from 2010 and never heard of l33t features before?

Of course it's worth I mean it's lifetime...

What are those sections? VIP tab was removed as far as I know.

OP, L33t will let you bypass many restrictions of new users and enjoy the features of this site better.

To answer your questions, please read Upgrading to 3p1c, l33t, or ub3r.

This is a one-time payment.

You will have access to a lot of sections which have specific requirements. See Requirements System Explained for a full list of requirements and information regarding the perks of your upgrade.

Cheers but it's absolutely no where near being a full/complet list. Far from.

Just giving him a list of some sections which are L33T only, it's probably the only resource I could find and it is stickied, so I assumed it was completed.
