I'd rather hibernate in Firefox until it gets good again than use Chrome.

Chrome is too simple and I do not trust Google employees with my information.

Shorta - March 14, 2018, 4:13 am

You don't trust google? who literally owns Android and so much else

Firefox or not, they got yo info.

SIM-403479 - March 14, 2018, 4:16 am

I always use Google Chrome. Can't remember when I last used anything else.

2SLiCkZ - March 14, 2018, 4:29 am

Lol might as well don't use the internet at all if you're that paranoid.

trapeeze - March 14, 2018, 4:30 am

Chrome is bad style; like originally people have style, just because they're rich? So what?

Firefox is more orientated around the browser, google Chrome is more part of bigger Google system; I hate it, it's not paranoia. I hope the system behind my browser is more browser orientated. I feel more private at Firefox. I feel dragged into Google's social system, rather than professional browser orientated system.

You spend too much time being pensive, and shocked. Google is bad imagery, I don't want my children growing up around companies like Google.

Firefox is way better and faster than Chrome.

I've tested Chrome multiple times on multiple machines it's just slow...

I have no idea probably Chrome is just designed to work faster on specific machines? Just speculation...

You probably dont have Firefox quantum, but firefox beats chorme it does.
Take a look here: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5810300>

Might not be the most accurate test, but it beats it for everyone.

Mr. Robot - March 14, 2018, 4:51 am

Why not actually use a browser that protects your information and yourself rather than rely on the age old argument of chrome vs firefox.

If your reply is directed at me then next time quote me.

Firefox is way faster than any browser that currently exists.

I just wanted to test chrome with the website you sent, funny enough the installer itself is taking 2 mins to start.Won't waste anymore time with chrome or chrome fans who will trash firefox, unless they speak in a manner way.

I don't remember saying to use Tor?

Well you mentioned to use a secure browser so I assumed you were talking about TOR. ?
What do you suggest to use as a secure browser? Brave?

"Chrome is too simple and I do not trust Google employees with my information."

It's not like employees decide to cheat with your information or are in the position to. I don't dislike Firefox - you can decide for yourself what's best but that's a stupid reason you mentioned there

Proxychains + w3m :D
That's what I would recommend.

No it was directed at Aggron, he said Chrome runs faster than his Firefox.

Perhaps but I don't like how the company is split between Russia and the United States - I don't like Google news. I don't like Sergey Brin, I think there is complications on the worth of our credentials.

Oh alright, sorry. I thought you were indirectly talking to me :P.

Dae Kim - March 14, 2018, 6:21 am

Firefox is perfect for addons.

Ninja - March 14, 2018, 6:21 am

I just use Google Chrome and have been using it for a couple years now. Before that, I was an Internet Explorer guy.

Haseo™ - March 14, 2018, 6:24 am

I use iceweasel and chrome, I don't think firefox is bad I'm almost pretty sure it's one of the fastest if not the fastest browser and there is so much support for it.

Theocritus - March 14, 2018, 6:32 am

ive always used chrome. i like it xd

SIM-2875347 - March 14, 2018, 6:48 am

Chrome isn't bad if you have enough RAM to handle it, I like it more just because of the general interface. I don't love how much info they take but I guess I trust them with it, their security is pretty good obviously.

Takehito Morokuzu - March 14, 2018, 9:11 am

Firefox is better IMO, and chrome is insecure as passwords are recovered easily. The new version of firefox is resistant to malware recovering saved passwords so I now have no need for something like lastpass.

trapeeze - March 14, 2018, 9:42 am

I'd rather hibernate on Firefox than receive a shit blowjob from Sergey Brin.

JuiceWRLD - March 14, 2018, 9:52 am

The simplicity of Google Chrome is what draws me in.
