Unknown logger is a trash, and it's mostly backdoored you find ones, it doesn't even work

Why don't you use Babylon or something

Babylon isn't a keylogger, it's a typical rat which needs portforwarding, keylogger is which records and monitors keystrokes, there's one for smtp and ftp sending, maybe his router doesn't supports portforwarding so he only has one way another to use logger.

I don't recommend the ftp option, unless you have a good stable/offshore hosting, so it may work properly without any bans, just go with smtp.

Costex Keylogger Has FTP, syslogger and many others.
