Galaxias - March 22, 2018, 2:34 am

Welcome to Appraisers' Official $500+ Giveaway to the Hack Forums community. Before I begin with any details as to what this giveaway will require of you, I would like to first off by thanking Divined, our group leader, for giving supporting Hack Forums in many unimaginable ways through the contributions he has made for Omniscient and as well as multiple groups throughout the forum that serve the greater good of the community. Without him, this group would probably be nonexistent. Furthermore, many other great groups would have not existed either. Or this giveaway itself may have not been possible, so I do greatly appreciate his support in this and throughout the forum. I would also like to thank many of the members in Appraisers who are also contributing to this giveaway which allows us to provide a greater amount of upgrades and awards for the community.

UPGRADES

HF 3P1C (x6)
HF L33T (x6)
HF UB3R (x6)

AWARDS

EMERALD (x4)
RICH BITCH (x2)
GIFT (x4)

WHAT YOU NEED TO DO

In this giveaway, all I simply ask of you is for you to do the following: Wear our group's signature which will be provided below

Write a short 1-3 paragraph response as to your thoughts on how Appraisers is as a group, the work that we've done (as a whole or particular members), and what you believe or suggest Appraisers do better in any form or way

Then that's it! After you post, we as a group will randomly select the number of winners until there are no more available upgrades & rewards!

say RIP for all new members like me who cannot use their signature xD

Linkin Park - March 22, 2018, 7:25 am

Have done the signature :)

The appraisers is an amazing idea for people who don't have the capital to invest into testing products or services, and gives people the ability to see what the item they are looking into is actually like.

A lot of reviews can be biased towards the product, especially if it's something they want, so having the ability to have someone with no tie-ins to the product review it completely for another users benefit is seriously cool :)

Space• - March 22, 2018, 7:27 am

I'll be honest with you here, I'm not the biggest fan of appraisers role at the moment. I, myself was in the reviewer section of Influence a couple of Months ago. It was really fun to investigate, analyze and eventually inspiring others based on my thoughts. I stopped because it began to look like we were reviewing, only to receive a free product. I've had instances where people requested me to bring out an 'honest' review, in other words, a review that they want to hear, not the generic crowd. Of course, I denied but people wanted to take advantage of Influence's reviewers and milk it out.

Don't get me wrong, I'm definitely not considering Appraisers to be fraudulent or dishonest. I just think that eventually, the formula runs out like it happened to Influence. Users were beginning to hate on reviews if they were negative as if they wanted to only see good things. On the other hand, how Appraisers handles this is much more advanced then Influence did. I read an article/invite thread in the Group discussion page where people were asked if they would be fine with Leaders to ask for some sort of user verification, that's a nice first protocol. Then there are the advanced and very detailed guides, topics and replies.

I hope to visualize more topics and appraisals from Appraisers soon, with here and there some diversity. Because in the end, it's an open market for everyone to use, but a very close market if you're trying to climb. If the appraisals and product reviews keep being valid and legitimate I'm definitely looking forward to what Appraisers have to offer in the near future.

We always write honest reviews and only to help the people on HF. None of our users then go on to take advantage of any product the receive, sooo...

Plus we do confirmations as well across every subforum.

I think what the Appraisers do is extremely helpful to the community. Providing insight and opinions on products that are available can save people a lot of money. You also save people time as they don't have to search around forever to get an estimate or if the product is a good one. I think the services you guys provide are great.

I've seen a couple of things by Theocritus around the Secondary Exchange. I have read a couple of his reviews on the Crypto Exchange section as well. Everything provided by you guys is truthful and very well written. Divined is probably one of the biggest people to thank as he does very much not only in this group but many others as well.

I think what you guys are doing is great and helpful to the community there isn't much that I can say I would want you to change. Everything is honest and time and thought get put into your reviews. Keep up the good work guys!

Thank you for the kind words, We are striving to bring reviews to the public NOT ONLY to stop the surge of shit tier products, but to actually help those vendors who release quality products to grow their customers. It's not fair when people who release high quality products are pushed aside for other products that are complete rips/shit.

We would love to see the market full of HQ products, and an end to scamming and LQ items that do not deliver what they promise.

It seems like the text beneath the signature is not showing up as I would have expected it to show, I will be changing how the signature is done in order to incorporate it into the signature to see if there is a fix for this.

However, the giveaway will continue but I would like to kindly ask all users update their signatures when the update is made.

Ripp - March 22, 2018, 3:06 pm

Done, good luck to all and big thanks to the Appraisers for making this happen!

Galaxias - March 22, 2018, 3:08 pm

UPDATE:

It looks like the signatures work as intended but the forum board itself for displaying the signature and text is smaller than I expected which cuts off right at where the text shows. Going to see if there is something we can do to fix that.

The image height (and subsequently width to keep aspect ratio) will need to be made smaller by just a little bit to fit the text into the signature

In my personal opinion, I like Appraisers as a group, I was looking forward to joining very soon once I'm able to get Ub3r. I haven't seen much people leave formal reviews as to the quality of Appraisers before on HF and am glad you guys are apart of the community. I feel this group is necessary to weed out the LQ, HQ, and scams in the Marketplace and keep that part of the forum in great condition. I didn't realize this was what Legends turned into at first but I see it was a turn for the better and was worth it. I applied to Legends a couple years back when Raymond was running things but I'm sure it's a lot different now.

I believe the Appraisers can better the group by a couple of things, I've looked in the Groups section and it seems like nobody really has an interest or qualifications to join. You guys could possibly lower the qualifications to being approved for ub3r, or having a certain amount of rep and no scam reports. Either way, I like the exclusivity of the group but more reviews need to be done in the Marketplace IMO, it seems like I only see Theocritus doing reviews and he's the most recent member that's joined. I'm looking forward to doing a lot of reviews and even start up MMinig when I eventually get approved for Ub3r.

All in all, you guys do what no other group on this forum board does and you do it well. Your aim is to help people just like The Samaritans(Shoutout) and we all know that's rare to come across nowadays. Everybody's intentions are monetary-based, but people don't realize that you have to offer some shape or form of a solution to people in order to truly make a ton of money. Looking forward to hearing from you guys and good luck to everybody else in the contest!

Lowering qualifications is a dangerous game when dealing with getting free shit. The requirements are tough because we are handing out free products to people and we need to trust that they ONLY use it for a review and never use their position just to get free products and services.

And seriously, thank you for your support. A group like this is very much subject to public perception and while we may catch flack for treating products on a very strict guideline I am glad members like you are appreciative!

Yeah, no problem, It was just an idea but keeping it exclusive seems plausible too. I've done a couple reviews in my time and hoping to do more, with the signature portion of this thread, it should shed a little more light on the Appraisers. Sucks that unupgraded members are unable to advertise though.

Edit: A lot of people are leechers and too lazy to write 1-3 paragraphs. Lol

Fortunate - March 22, 2018, 11:26 pm

Appraisers is a great group with a good intention to provide a better marketplace experience to everyone.

You should make use of the [Appraisal] thread prefix as you've already discussed, it could be a great opportunity for the group.

I had to leave the group as I'm busy, but I really appreciate the time you are putting in. I'm also wearing the signature, thanks for the odds.

Your best bet is lower the width and length, but keep the aspect ratio. Basically just making it smaller so the text can fit in.

Just did this (:

The appraisers is a really High quality group and appraising every product that i see on this forum in certain aspects that help customers or people interested in it, the group was created with a really smart idea and helpful motto which i really like.

The reviews are very detailed and of 100% quality, good job guys!

An important note about the feedback of Appraisers, while we all love to get brownnosed don't feel like that is the only thing you need to do. We are looking for constructive critique and ways we can improve our group and the way we interact with the community. If you have a negative feeling of Appraisers, PLEASE TELL US SO WE CAN TRY AND FIX IT!

GripeseE - March 23, 2018, 2:20 pm

Appraisals are almost always required in a forum such as this, and having our own group of specialist appraisers has to be one of the most genius ideas I've seen that has been come up with on this forum. I know many people don't or might want a second opinion on something they're selling and usually we'd have a bunch of randoms just spurt out numbers and not really have any sense in what they say most of the times. This group eliminates that and provides a detailed explanation and a price point for anything they've appraised from what I've seen. I greatly appreciate the group and the services you provide to this forum, keep it up :).

Galaxias - March 23, 2018, 4:05 pm

Thanks for all the thoughtful responses! We as a group appreciate them and hope to take the feedback to see what we can do as a group to ensure that our group remains high quality and pushing for a safe marketplace. Furthermore, I have updated the signature image to a cubeupload link due to the fact that someone is constantly trying to report the imgur link. In such a case, I will have to again, ask every user that has entered to recopy and paste the new code provided in the thread.

Thanks.

icy? - March 23, 2018, 5:24 pm

The appraisers are made up of a select few people that determine the quality and service of the HF market sellers. They prevent people from overcharging, fraudulent activity, and scammers. Appraisers also write very detailed reviews on products that they receive. This is one of the most influential and prestigious groups there is out there. Without them, we would all be on our own when it comes to the marketplace. This is why it is imperative to have a select few trusted members to appraise products, opposed to their friends that help them charge absurd amounts.

Thanks for everyone's work :)

Galaxias - March 24, 2018, 3:52 am

Thanks for all of you that have entered and us Appraisers highly appreciate the feedback you've given us on our group. We take these feedbacks seriously as it will help us improve as a whole and help us strive to become greater than ever before. Also to note, make sure to update your signature to the cubeupload link! Someone is seriously taking their time to take down our imgur ones so I have decided to replace it with cupeupload for now!

SIM-403479 - March 25, 2018, 3:08 am

This is a great opportunity for people to earn some awards. Good luck everyone and we appreciate the feedback.

Divined - March 26, 2018, 5:11 am

Thank you all for your feedback.

RAT - March 26, 2018, 7:48 am

I really appreciate the work of Appraisers. It is good that there are people who analyze the products objectively in order to help other members make decisions what products to buy. Furthermore, it removes the danger of getting scammed by overpriced and overhyped products/services. You're like the purest form of HF S.E.C. ?

I'll have to admit that before buying a product from different sections I mostly decide buying the ones that you have reviewed. Yes, I have bought ones without Appraisers reviews, but it feels like buying a pig in a bag... You'll never really know if it's actually what the "subjective reviews and feedback" claim it to be. I have been ripped of a few times (the product is actually some well-known method with just a small twitch to it, lol). That's the case where you guys come in - help members to actually make the right decision.

I would like to thank the whole squad - especially Divined!

Appraisers is doing great. It is something that helps the whole HF marketplace function properly & effectively. Keep your reviews coming! What should be changed? I guess there isn't much... Maybe the quantity is the weak part? Quality can be high, but it would be ideal if you had more manpower to make the whole process even faster, so the whole market would be clean & fair to all parties (both buyers and sellers).

Keep it up. We all need you!

Galaxias - March 26, 2018, 10:00 am

MrHappy - March 28, 2018, 4:13 am

Well, what do I think of the Appraisers group? Not being too active within HackForums in the recent months but been active in the past, I came along this thread and hadn't noticed this group before. Saying that I did some research into what your group conducts/stands for and my constructive criticism/advice/praise will be based on recent research.

Firstly, looking into what your group conducts, `marketplace product reviews` is a brilliant idea for many reasons. Most importantly your group seems to be comprised of reputable members of the forum who can make educated choices of whether a product is worth the purchase or not. Having a group which specialises in reviewing else products is not only important for potential customers to see but also for the product OP to get constructive criticism or praise on their product. This can both benefit the product developers/sellers and both of potential customers as they know what they're buying.

A bit back when I use to do minor currency exchange I did hear of Galaxies, someone which I saw recently has exchanged large sums but now performing tasks to help the community is something credible in my opinion. I can't imagine the time it can take away from earning money by writing reviews for products and discussing them with else parties involved.

Overall, I think the Appraisers group is on track to be very helpful to plenty of users on HF. Not used the group myself for products published yet in the future if I venture into marketplace selling I will definitely consider getting in contact with this group for an honest critique of a future product.

Like I said only just came back to HF, don't know all the specifics but seems like you guys are doing good work, I may be wrong but that what it portrays like across the forums.

icy? - March 28, 2018, 7:27 am

Very surprised this hasn't received much attention. The appraisers are a very reputable group here on hackforums. They have written long and creative reviews on products to ensure the buyer isn't getting ripped off. I'm glad to see you guys are doing a huge giveaway like this. Keep it up!!

MrHappy - March 29, 2018, 10:16 am

In addition to my prior post, recently I made a request for an appraisal of an Instagram Handle of mine. With a shy of belief after a couple of days of no replies, the Appraisers and another kind chap both left credible quotes of the Handle's worth and the Appraisers further gave a reason for their quote. Great work! Thanks guys.

000 - March 29, 2018, 10:48 am

Before I start thank you for the opportunity. I have updated my signature. This is my first time entering into a contest so good luck to me and everyone that is participating.

I think the whole concept behind the Appraisers group is pure genius. And you guys are doing an amazing job with it. I mean it. It will take some time for the group to reach its peak but it's worth it. I've seen couple of reviews by the Appraisers' group members in the Market Place section, they're well written and thought out. I appreciate the effort, it's actually very helpful to read a detailed review about a product. It eliminates poor products and the need to ask questions from the seller as a newbie would do, this saves time for both seller and the customer.

Unlike other groups I hope the motive behind the group stays alive. Overall I appreciate the hard work you guys do and good luck with it!

PS: The signature image looks dope.

Vyxn - March 31, 2018, 2:42 am

First of all, I really like the concept of the groups. I also once plan on applying to your group because its one of my interest but I never met any of the requirements. Your job was really a helpful features for our fellow members here who want to have an insight on the products that they wanted to buy. I also don't think you'll do any fake reviews as your leader was really a responsible one.

My little suggestion was, review everything randomly not just the one who'll come and ask you to review his product. Something like a new products really needs a solid review to establish a good reputation. Hope to see more reviews from you guys! Stay on the right side and have a nice day.

Phackfo - April 2, 2018, 6:32 am

To be honest - you can do better.

I hardly see you guys on the forum, but when I do - it is in good terms.

You actually do good and hard work, but it seems like maybe you should add some more members as maybe there are not enough and this is why you have low visibility.

The quality of the members of the group, the ones that are known is very high - and they speak right to the point.

In general - thank you for what you are doing, and for this contest in particular,

And for wanting to hear genuine reviews about yourselves,

Which is pretty nice as you are the ones to give reviews in general :)

Thanks.

THE APPRAISERS

The beginning

I would like to personally thank Galaxias of the APPRAISAL team for his presence on this forum. (which i am sure, is the same as the other members of the appraisers.)

He is always scouting for new posts and replies to new/open threads to inform the thread starters of their service.

To the entire group of the Appraisers.

Altho i notice some active users, i hope you guys are even more active in the sales threads, providing more and better services to the forum.

As i think, this group was made to provide a full and honest support to the forum, on wich this forum should be able to rely on for 100%

I would suggest, adding more HQ members to the group and be the first one to reply on a new thread!

Conclusion

This service is at decent quality, but at the moment undervalued. Not many people trust/believe in the service provided, and that issue should be worked on.

The same counts for "Knowing" the appraisers existence.

New members do not now about this service, wich will make them believe a bad willing person sooner to let them "appraise/vouch/etc" without a decent review of their product in the end.

Thank you for reading. I wish every competitor the best for winning the competition!

I'll give this a bump so this can get more attention by the community as well as the host hopefully.

Galaxias - April 5, 2018, 12:23 am

Ladies and gents, this contest is still running! Make sure to enter and don't miss out. This is one of the greatest things we wish to provide for the community aside from our main mission of providing the best experience in the marketplace section with our written reviews, confirmations and other tasks that we do. If you know other members of the forum personally that have not entered, let them know about it! The more the better! I will be discussing about the end-date of this contest with Divined and other members but until then, this will still go on!

Helios :) - April 5, 2018, 8:57 am

Hi im posting my entry,

I think that Appraisers is doing really well on HF with its different sections and subjects, always delivering good stuff (tutorials, reviews...) and in my opinion i think that having new members also will help since there are a lot of IT enthusiasts and i hope they'll be delivering more stuff especially tutorials ;)

Fortunate - April 7, 2018, 5:07 am

I'm just posting to bump, I really feel like this should get more attention.

People, join the giveaway, it's totally free. Appraisers is a great group to be in. Send me a PM to remove this post if you're planning to choose a winner based on post #, I've already entered.

Triplezx7 - April 7, 2018, 12:54 pm

Appraisers are great people who go around and give professional input on products available around the forums. This gives both users and sellers some peace of mind.

I see Galaxis and Theocritus quite a bit giving great reviews. I really enjoy reading your posts as they are well written and look appealing.

Wonderful group and addition to the community for both buyers and sellers, quite the high quality group!

f o r m i d a b l e - April 7, 2018, 5:51 pm

There is a strict but fair entry level requirement to become an Appraisers member. This is ideal to potential customers or prospects to entrust a member's credibility upon reviews, especially from a reputable group like this. Definitely there's demand for merchants to have reviews, as well as for potential buyers to make informal decisions based on reviews. From experience, I realized too many low quality ebooks had high quality enticing sales pages, followed by many supportive reviews which seemed not to be genuine. I think in the future, the presence of Appraisers can fulfill higher quality standards in the marketplace, and mitigate quite a lot of LQ cheating merchants. I and my skype group was cheated because somebody leaked a private method, and eventually got sold by another merchant, of which we paid hundreds for first.

On the content of reviews, I can see they identify with what potential buyers would be concerned about knowing. From the few reviews I've seen, it seems each member follows a certain principal of writing which is informative enough for decision-making. If it's high quality material, the review is mutually beneficial to the merchant and potential buyers. However, if it's low quality, this would be clearly acknowledged to potential buyers. This may help buyers make better decisions, or at least not waste bitcoins, again.

From my suggestion, I think it's a good idea to get a unanimous decision as a group in terms of grading. Another area I think can be graded or emphasized is the level of tediousness it would take to fulfill what was promised; this had always been my concern. I think Appraisers has the potential to raise the standard of quality in the community.

Bump for the appraisers.

Do we have an update on a "date" for this event to end?
Cheers!

Another bump.

Also curious to know. :)

The contest will end at the end of the month!

SIM-403479 - April 17, 2018, 4:13 am

You still have a few weeks to get involved in this!

Judge Judy - April 17, 2018, 4:35 am

While the appraisers are a relatively new group on Hackforums, you guys have grown to prominence quickly due to your activity in the marketplace section (and outside.)

One thing in particular I like about the group are the joining requirements, having potential members do reviews not only shows you how well they would fit in your niche group it also helps other people who stumble across their posts on accident. The fact that you only take Ub3r members is also to your interest since you only take the crème de la crème, the best of the best but most of all the long time members of Hackforums.

Appraisers are always needed, especially since here on Hackforums there are so many sales threads, with as much trash as there are diamonds in the rough. It's funny how I stumbled across your recruitment thread just yesterday, looking for potential groups to join, I have to say while it might not be the group for me I at least know you guys are a lovely sight in any sales thread, and definitely an addition to this forum as a whole.

While I probably won't be joining your group any time soon since I am not an appraiser by heart, but if you guys ever need anything proofread, then let me know.

Now I'm going to stop verbally jerking you guys off, and thanks for the giveaway, and good luck to all participants.

ZeroOne - April 17, 2018, 2:15 pm

To the best of my knowledge and understanding, "Appraisers" is a group that was created with a mission that has multiple yet very valuable objectives.

1. Appraising and reviewing almost every product that is offered on the marketplace here on HF.
2. Looking out for scammers and alerting other members to avoid having more scams happening.
3. Confirming ownership of certain things members claim to own.

This list can obviously go on and be a little bigger but I find these three points the most valuable and the most essential in our community.

Joining the "Appraisers" group is probably one of the most difficult things to aim for on HF at this moment. The requirements ensure that the members of this group really do know what they're doing and are all high quality members. These high quality members have guided people around and have made great threads and posts on different sections on HF. What you guys do is very much appreciated and I hope to see this group accomplish all its goals.

The only thing I would suggest as a change in this group is changing this "Must be an Ub3r member. (Approved but not upgraded does not count)" rule or allowing exceptions for certain HQ l33t members that had never gotten the chance to get upgraded.

Finally, I would like to thank you for holding this contest and wish everyone good luck with their entries. ?

selfmademillionaire - April 18, 2018, 6:59 am

Thank you very much for the giveaway. I find this group very useful as there are a lot of useless products being sold around in HF. This group is helping people getting to know what they are actually paying for which is something really useful. Thank you for doing this !

Galaxias - April 21, 2018, 2:11 am

Judge Judy - May 4, 2018, 4:16 am

Hey I'm not sure whether or not to bump this thread, but since the contest is over I'm going to change my signature back to what it was before.

Hope this doesn't disqualify me, but I send you a PM about it a while ago and didn't get a reply. :\

Galaxias - May 4, 2018, 6:05 pm

Sorry for the unfortunate delay guys, I am going to be using Random.org to select the winners that range up until the previous post before my statement of the thread is closed. I will be doing so in approximately 10 minutes to get everything setup so you all may see it.

16 54 13 13
49 2 38 46
27 60 49 41
64 29 59 21
18 52 41 9
50 3 26 62
39 38 9 17

These are the following numbers that have won. If your number shows up more than once, you may choose to upgrade another contestant of your choice.

Please keep in mind to upgrade to UB3R, you MUST have already been approved by Omniscient.

Please PM me or Divined for a first come first serve basis on upgrades & awards. If an appraiser's number was a part of the randomly picked post number, they may choose to do a RNG and inform me and/or Divined of the winner. Please keep in mind that the numbers may not repeat if the RNG is done due to an Appraiser's post number being picked.

If anyone is in need of clarity, please let me know. I have not personally checked through the numbers picked but do be informed that I will do a thorough check once members PM me.

Unsure if your number counted since you were already a member of the Appraisers. Awaiting to hear from Galaxias. Grats to the winners!

I am the leader of the Appraisers, I was just letting Galaxies know that he will need to re-pick for my number as he is the one in-charge of the contest. I also wanted to publicly make sure that my post win should go to someone else.

The Director - May 7, 2018, 11:13 pm

Gotcha, Unsure how this was really determined tbh if you're #2... Thought this was just by whoever filled out the requirements not by post #... on standby for clarification from whoever.

Galaxias - May 8, 2018, 3:26 am

It looks like only 23 people have entered (excluding repeats and Appraiser members posts) from first to last.

So pretty much every person that had entered has won.

To make this very clear and easy. Rewards & upgrades will be by a first-come first basis from my final decision. Starting from today, I will @ all of you and you must PM me within 48 hours. I will notify each and every one of you at a time who's already came to redeem X item.
