I've been lazy to make the report but whatever. Bought his "NEW" shell method and realized it was just his old one but reworded. When people found out it didnt work he closed his thread and then when I messaged him he sent me the "updated method". Sent him another PM saying it didn't work and he never responded. Just want my refund for his shitty shell method that doesnt even work.

There were a couple of DD's for this dude.

Sorry for the loss OP.

Can you not chargeback, since you paid with PP? It might also get his account limited, which would be a bonus

He renamed to "Marcy."

Open a chargeback, PayPal will close it within minutes anyways. Plus, my account won't get limited.

I didn't even scam you, you bought after the patch and if you read my ToS, this scam report is invalid.

Vouch for this, user has been selling a broken method for like 2 months now lol, sold it with a program to automate it and the program doesn't even work

According to your ToS you said you'll refund people if they bought "after the patch" and not give them some alternative method.
So don't be dick about it and give him his money back.

This is a very valid scam report.
