Thread: \$1,050 in 24 hours doing CPA

Johnny Appleseed - March 23, 2018, 11:53 pm

So since I first posted this thread my earnings have gone up quite a bit.

This is all I did to earn what you see below, but I guess I just got lucky with the rankings and the fact that my video hasn't been taken down yet.

1. Used a free lp from ogads and hosted it on my domain
 2. Paid someone to create a fake video showing the website working
 3. Uploaded video. The key here is good youtube SEO. Keywords in description, title and tags
 4. Bought views and likes from cyka.io
- And thats it...

Columns left to right: Date, impressions, clicks, conversions, payout, conv rate, EPC, EPU

xbryan - March 24, 2018, 12:05 am lol thats cool dude, is your video still up?

Pirate - March 24, 2018, 12:07 am

Congo..

And thanks for the chill working steps.

LANCE4BLES - March 24, 2018, 12:12 am

Happy to hear this! Fortnite is big ATM and a nice niche for those v bucks. Perfect idea to make and lp with this and invest into having a video made nice job. My days of doing Cpa were not successful sadly to say : (

Yep my video is still up but views are slowing down. My channel is about 2 years aged with 450 real subs and 30 videos with 500-1k natural views

Yeah I went through lots of trial and error in the past. With youtube the most important things are the tags, description, and title. VidIQ plugin for chrome helps a lot with that Congrats on those amazing earnings!

Lately I was attracted by the opportunities CPA offers, but do not have much experience. I would be grateful if you can share what you've done in a bit more detailed explanation!

Keep up the great work!

Yeah no problem mate. Basically I made an account on OGAds, and downloaded one of their free landing pages. Then I used my shared hosting account to host the page on a custom domain. They guy that made the youtube video is ppdmaker on skype. he works pretty fast and its HQ.

The most important part of youtube cpa is the SEO. You need to have a long description and repeat your 2-3 big keywords throughout. Have the same 2-3 keywords in your tags and your main keyword in your title. I also would buy ~2k likes and 10 or so custom comments saying it worked, etc, etc. The more natural comments you get the better so on my video I posted a comment asking a question about fortnite, which generated 20 responses from actual people.

This is like the most common form of YouTube cpa, I'm pretty sure I learned it from a public thread on here a couple of years ago

Ill send you a link now, and no almost 0% of my video views came from subscribers.

The video was taken down, but I appealed and it was brought back up. The video is still managing to bring in lots of clicks and revenue. Ill post another update screenshot below.

Congrats on the earnings!

Youtube is still a goldmine, you just need to find a good panel to work with.

Wubix - March 29, 2018, 10:22 pm legit the first thought i had braxz - March 30, 2018, 1:22 am

It seems legit to me. According to socialblade he's getting 20k views days. I doubt he's still boosting the video so those earnings look realistic.

The only reason I posted what site I got views from is because of all of the people asking. I couldn't care less where you buy views from

2073436 - April 1, 2018, 9:36 am

It proves how straightforward it can be sometimes with CPA

However this isn't a stable income since it's dependent on a single video

It could've been just a lucky one so I wouldn't be satisfied until I'd find out if it works for other niches too

Still, this is easy money so props to you.

SmoothCriminal412 - April 1, 2018, 12:20 pm

Few questions Johnny if you don't mind:

How long did you buy views after you uploaded the video?

At which point did you add the likes and comments?

How long did it take you to rank?

I'm worried about this from happening aswell. Lets hope that the OP is not doing that.

Btw thanks for mentioning VidIQ plugin.

Is cyka.io views high retention and easy to get on the first page for a low-competition niche?

I think mine auto refilled if it dropped below how many I ordered. But i have yet to try another service so I cant really compare them to any other views. They obviously worked for me though
