No we are just using send grid free plan and some of their IP's are blacklisted. Working on getting a dedi IP soon. Try another email and check your spam.

I will mess around with this later today

Off the top of my head thats the system asking for a miner fee of some sort - ill probably end up having to add a new option that just allows you to list as free so it doesnt try to take any fees.

The platform its self takes 0% nothing - makes no money from you selling an item. The only money we pull in is from those who buy donator rank.

monero since its the most used for privacy and other smaller ones like LTC and BCH since these are easier to add comparing to monero and if the btc fees go high again (and likely they will go in the near future) we need these alternatives .Also perfect money have api documentation so it should be pretty easy to be added.

Know what would be cool? Delivery methods thst depends on the payment method.

Then you can setup full automatic delivery on crypyo payments and manual delivery (telling them to post order ID on thread) for PayPal payments. ?

(Manual delivery for PayPal payments reduces chargebacks)

I just have a few questions about your TOS

Your site says no fees but under Section 4 of your Terms of Service

"By signing up on the site, selling the goods via Digitox and using the service, the user herein expressly agrees that a 0.5% fee will be charged by our upstream bitcoin payment processor. This will be deducted before the payment is forwarded to the buyer."

As well as account termination you are stating that even when we have our accounts deleted you will still keep logs of our products and activity.

This means you will be keeping cd keys etc if we were to sell it on your site?

Also questions about

SECTION 9 - PROHIBITED USES

I am very sure there will be a lot of people here using your site for unethical sales of things such as RATs etc. Your terms themselves state that you guys do not allow these. What will be your action if there is such sales posted up from your site via your merchants registered?

What happens when someone reports one of said merchants.

Also who wrote your Terms page?

About 79% of it is copied from existing documents.

Nelphia - April 24, 2018, 8:56 am

It might be nice to add the fact of being able to change currency (EUR and others).

The statistics page doesn't seem to work with the filtering - When I'm trying to see the statistics for two particular products instead of all my products, it shows the stats for all of my products.

I'd also like to know what's in the "donator" perks if there's a set of 'features' to be listed?

Nice service regardless, works as intended and does it well, the statistics part does bum me a little nevertheless. ?
