Thread: iHerb free products \(excluding shipping \) US don't work

TommyTheCat - March 27, 2018, 12:42 pm

I've found a way to get free products from iHerb that will work for some countries only. All you have to do is get an account and order something that's considered illegal in your country. It will automatically be sent back but you'll get something called credit which is just money that you can spend on the site. I ordered a bunch of DIM (Diindolylmethane) which was illegal in my country and when it got sent back I got 5% of the order as loyalty points. I have done it three times in a row now and have ordered free products for over 300 dollars.

Might be a good idea to create a new account after some time. When it get sent back, you receive 100% of the money back to your bank account including the shipping cost. Easy way to get some free supplements but you still have to pay for shipping cost. I hope I posted this in the right category.

I'm guessing this wouldn't work for the US since the company is based there and it would be weird if they sold stuff that's considered illegal lol.

So all you have to do is order a massive amount of illegal drugs to specific countries, and simply collect a 5% cash back + a full refund?

Not only is this fraud, but you're attempting to traffic drugs that are illegal in specific areas in the eyes of the law, this is retarded.

This sounds so fucking sketchy, I suggest nobody do this, it is illegal and is considered blackhat.

It's not illegal drugs, you dumb fuck. It's only illegal in certain countries. For example anything labelled as aphrodisiac is not legal in Germany. This isn't illegal at all, they just send it back. It's not like you're ordering steroids.

But yeah its kinda a asshole thing to do.

Look at some of their product reviews. For example "testosterone boosting" they have fake reviews.

Some reviewers are giving 5/5 stars only to RSP products. They let that happen, so it's a scumbag company.

It's a controlled substance, it doesn't matter what it is whether it's fucking corn syrup or cocaine, it's illegal to attempt to this

It's banned in those countries and intentionally ordering items that are considered illegal to a country is not a good idea

Even if they refund you and never send it, the company will catch on and possibly report you for frauding their rewards system
