Thread: [Anime Edit \[Battle Girl High School\]](#)

Not sure if this is the right place, but I figured I'd share it with like-minded individuals. I made some sick terrible edit of Battle Girl High School if anyone wants to check it out. I recently, as of two nights ago, started playing with after effects and sony vegas and decided to make this abomination. If anybody has anime recommendations that would look cool in this style please let me know as that might actually be the hardest part of the process.

Not wrong, it was terrible, but I think thats mostly due to the choice of music. The video effects themselves weren't so bad, but nothing fit to the music and made it a somewhat jarring experience.

I think you could cut up some scenes from the Monogatari series; I think they'd fit well in this style. Are you looking at making AMVs in the future?

Yeah, trying to make the clips sync up to music is really hard. Well now I know what to focus on, thanks ^^ Bakemonogatari is a great choice ?
