

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: What's Your Favorite Educational Subject?

Jarymaine - March 29, 2018, 12:34 pm

Education to me is important. I enjoy learning new things. My favorite educational subject was always math. It doesn't require a lot of equipment other than calculators, rulers, ect.

I like to learn about math because I've understood and liked it since my younger days, and everything always works out. For example, multiplying and adding numbers will always give you the same number on a calculator. I like the idea of other subjects. For example, chemistry, but I've realized that having to wear safety equipment, breathing in chemicals, smoke, ect. most of the time always turns me off. I like math where all you require is a paper, a pencil, and to learn the material.

What is your favorite educational subject?

blackpantherdab - April 9, 2018, 2:16 pm

Maths is ok but it's so repetitive and can get boring if you do too much I find. Good to mix it in with a useless but entertaining subject like English/Art/History.

Libertatem - April 12, 2018, 9:38 pm

I'm working on my aerospace engineering masters and I have fun with controls/automation (autopilot) type stuff. It's really difficult and involved, but once all the math is worked out, the system behaves perfectly and reacts more quickly than humans ever could.

Journal - April 13, 2018, 10:39 pm

Hey,

I write for a living so I'll have to stick with "writing"!

~Journal

theCDW - April 15, 2018, 3:18 am

Mine is Geography. i recommend the youtube channel "Geography Now", awesome channel

Nielznl - April 19, 2018, 7:21 am

My favorite subject is most definitely math, I like the logic behind it.

test - April 19, 2018, 7:23 am

I really enjoyed creative writing in English like narratives and recounts. I also loved Physical Education - not just because we got to play sports for half our lessons but learning about biomechanics was actually interesting. Biology was really interesting too but I just couldn't follow along.

M?xim - April 19, 2018, 7:27 am

Definitely biology. All areas. I'll take it.

f o r m i d a b l e - April 24, 2018, 9:08 pm

I've been studying finance, but the best subject was surprisingly not related which is:

Communications. I learned so much good and useful content from communication styles, especially through the more debatable forms of communication. There should be many different styles, not just public or interpersonal communication, and they are highly useful in life and work.

anzh - April 25, 2018, 11:38 am

Dance.

I study dance. I like it, been doing for over 10 years now.

ELudwig - April 27, 2018, 4:13 am

Mine is Science, specially in the Medical area

Kalifornia - April 27, 2018, 4:30 am

Music. I like the class we learned about music theory and rythm. Too bad i didn't follow anything in my elementary lmao. (Highschool dropout here)

Riot - April 27, 2018, 4:31 am

I love history although I'm by no means an expert. It's just a very interesting contrast when looking back on past events and to compare/see similarities to what is going on now. Or on a happier note, things that have changed for the better. (but everything's temporary so yeah we fucked)

2Dank - April 27, 2018, 6:26 am

Chemistry is good for making dwugz exdee

dmazowszan - April 28, 2018, 12:16 pm

My favorite is biology, it's fucking awesome.

Twinblades - May 18, 2018, 7:24 pm

I liked PE. Love getting to play sports and such and not having any homework XD

Carta Production - October 7, 2018, 9:42 am

When in school, I always loved science, especially the human body related sort. Also, I was always a particular lover of History, still love it.

That is, until I got into highschool, where my favourite subject was Drawing, and still is to this day.

Cos, you know, I like to draw :>