Linkin Park - April 1, 2018, 6:52 pm

Damn, this is an awesome idea.

Currently got fucked over by "unauthorised transactions" on paypal and am now in a nasty £55 (was previously 90) of debt that I cant currently pay off. (Not from a HF member), but it is a great scheme for people on here who are in the same predicament as me.

Awesome guy, is now helping me out. Overall I lost about £240 through unauthorised use, chargebacks - I'm not being helped to find my feet again and start to sort out my negative paypal balance.

Thanks a bunch.

I trusted member's new program and was one of the first buyers. Turns out he was simply reselling open source software. I opened a scam report and thankfully he got banned/closed. I still lost my money which kinda hurts.

I was wondering if I'm eligible for this?

Scam report:

Thanks, we need more people like you guys,

I would suggest giving him a message, if he doesn't reply within 24 hours then you could always make a deal dispute just saying you are yet to receive the product you have paid for with a few screenshots on your conversation and that you have paid him etc :)

.Bus - April 14, 2018, 12:31 pm

Scam me so I can get free stuff please ;)

Good job on this thread, nice to see people who are doing something towards others without trying to profit from it directly.
