Thread: Buying tobacco in Spain/Europe

Ski Mask the Slu?p God - April 1, 2018, 2:15 pm

Ayy, I'm currently in Barcelona and coming back on Tuesday and I'm looking to buy some tobacco pouches of Amber Leaf, however I'm not sure whether to buy it here from a "Tabacs" store or buy it from the airport and which is cheaper. Do any of you European boys know?

If you buy it from the Duty Free at the airport you'll be required to pay tax on it when arriving in your country I believe mate.

Obviously at city shops like Tabacos its better.

Im Spanish but I dont live at Barcelona.

Thanks man. Do you know if the prices vary depending on the location of the store? Like will stores further from tourist areas be cheaper?
