Thread: Why people hate people without friends?

Account of the Gods - April 3, 2018, 3:13 pm

Why its such an problem that someone has no friends? Like hes worse?

GlobalLine - April 3, 2018, 3:28 pm

Nobody thinks this way. You're just paranoid. Get some friends.

n_o_n_e - April 3, 2018, 3:30 pm

I guess people without friends are typically "social rejects" or "socially awkward" so people tend to avoid them. Most people that are friendless are nice people once you get to know them though.

I'm sure there is someone out there that thinks this way test - April 3, 2018, 4:32 pm

I think it's just you that thinks this way.

plexy.timex - April 3, 2018, 4:46 pm

I thibk that is dumb if someone is hated on for that. I personally never heard of someone being hated on for not having friends. Matter of fact I think its better to have less friends if not any friends at all. That way you dont get screwed with by anyone.

Bluffer - April 3, 2018, 4:48 pm

I don't think this is the case and maybe it's just you thinking this.

Sometimes less friends is better. Sometimes people are anti social. Or sometimes people are just introverted.

I am introverted myself, I still have friends. I just prefer to not have many.

Mr Meeseeks - April 3, 2018, 5:41 pm

It's easier for people to pick on someone if they have nobody.

This post in general is awkward as shit..

CPA Exposé - April 3, 2018, 6:52 pm

If someone has no friends, there is probably a reason.

So it's not surprising that other people don't like this person without friends.

He clearly has qualities that make him friendless. Sometimes this is realized consciously or even subconsciously.

And most people who say they have 0 friends by choice are BSing. People are social and everyone would like to have a good friend, even shy people.

Danny Khalifa - April 4, 2018, 3:28 am

Most of the times people without friends aren't really nice or enjoyable.

Take note how I said most people and not all.

HelloMyFriend - April 4, 2018, 11:49 am

They don't hate. I think they just don't like. Mainly because the person is an outcast. So he/she generally don't have any friends.

I mean I don't really hate those people if anything I try to be nicer to them and help them make new friends so they're not left alone.

Agency - April 4, 2018, 11:53 am

Being friendless isnt a bad thing, Some people prefer to be by themself i certainly did. Didn't have time for people through school years anytime i tried they just fucked me over. Doesnt mean im a bad guy eh?

Lidres - April 4, 2018, 9:02 pm

People tend to knock on someone who is solo.

vestallo - April 4, 2018, 10:06 pm

Because they think they are above someone which they are definitely not.

Arkane21 - April 4, 2018, 10:20 pm

Sometimes it helps to put yourself out there to make new friends.

If you truly believe you are hated by others you will never make new friends. You must first make changes from within.

This mothafukka is so cool he quoted himself

Natecat33 - April 4, 2018, 10:25 pm

When I didn't have friends I was angry and depressed. If you don't have friends maybe try asking people how you come off because maybe everyone has some impression of you and you don't even know it.

I'm very known in my area due to social media and stuff in the past but I keep my circle very small I tend to be by myself the majority of time if I can. I'm sure this is all in your head though

Carl Elias - April 5, 2018, 12:40 am

I have no friends, but that is partly by choice. I just don't trust people. The ones closest to friends that I used to have started spreading rumors about me. I clammed up. I opened up again in high school, no one really invited me to things and I felt more of the "annoying kid who always went with the group, but was not wanted". Now a few years after high school, I haven't talked to any of them since graduation.

The only person I really considered a friend that I was willing to really tell anything to was someone on here from Sweden. I worked with him on his VPN for a few years, but when I started to have more IRL things going on and left, I kinda destroyed that relationship by doing something bad that hurt him... (I still regret this) (I doubt he will see this, but I still think of the days working with the project)

Anyways, I don't think people hate me because I have no friends, I think they just tolerate me because I do things to make long term relationships difficult I guess. I also don't tend to like to get attached.

Vegeta - April 5, 2018, 12:59 am

Eh, I guess generally people with no friends have no friends for a reason. I wouldn't say I hate them though or even people do. They probably just find them weird that they couldn't get along with at least one person throughout their life so far.

Niko - April 5, 2018, 2:36 am

I've never really had IRL friends before besides this one guy who I always just used to follow around when I was at school really. Sucks, but it doesn't bother me a whole lot, maybe I just gave up.

I've been out of school (Dropped out of 10th grade) living at home on a private piece of land in a small forest for the past 4 years. Moving out in a few days though, so hopefully I can put an end to this lifestyle.

I don't really mind if my friend has no friends except me. I mean only fake friends care about that to raise their social standing and popularity.

no boyo fake IG followers are for that spradebassen - April 5, 2018, 3:41 am there is a reason you dont have any friends in the first place take that reason and bully.

its quite easy if you think about it there is a reason that leads to you having no friends

so if the reason is that you smell

i can pick on you and make you feel bad

this way you never get any friends because you get social anxiety and feel insecure

Most people just gang up on those who are different, it's human nature.

That's true, but I don't think anyone really HATES someone without friends, that's a strong word.

I have more than you. I must be better.

Same with Money, women, cars, houses, etc.

Using social status to define a hierarchy.
