Thread: Some Little Ewhore Advice to Beginners

N?ght - April 3, 2018, 10:52 pm

Making this quick and simple. Im a beginner just like all of you, I started last week and made 20$ in the first day then never again for the rest of the week.

Its very important to keep going at it. Keep reading, keep researching and trying new methods. If you think your method works, then traffic is a big one. I realized my method was perfectly fine but I was getting shitty traffic so it made no difference.

Today I figured out something new and made 200$ in around 30-45 minutes of typing. Literally all my shit is from PUBLIC packs and PUBLIC "saturated" links. Kikfriends, reddit, sexting chat groups. All of these are told to be "saturated" but really if you sell yourself right, then it will work. Dont be fooled with these packs, or ebooks. You need to get your feet in the water before anything. You dont need a paid pack to make money. These are things you purchase to help improve and increase your sales. But in the beginning it doesnt really matter, first you needa get a method right.

Im still a noob, I dont know too much but hope this helps anyone.
