For anyone curious I'm referring to this show: https://www.imdb.com/title/tt4254242/?ref=nm_sr_1

This has to be one of my favourite TV show at the moment, throughout its three seasons it's just got notably better hitting solid 8.5-9.5 ratings on IMDB this season. It's also been given the green light for season 4 which makes me extremely excited. I highly recommend anyone to give this show a go if it's the sort of thing you're into, season 3 has been one of the best seasons in a long time for me.

Season 3 finale spoilers alert:

So the finale aired last night and ow my days, It didn't really do it for me in terms of the ending but it was sure a great episode. It was such a roller-coaster towards the end with Alice destroying the keys, Julia bringing them back, turning on magic, the syphon being attached & everyone's memory being wiped. I was pretty bummed out when dean fog showed up and they attached the syphon but Elliot being inhabited by the monster really brought it all back for me, that ending was god damn awesome.

I cannot wait for next season, it's going to be amazing!

BRO I FUCKING LOVE THIS SHIT!

I live for The Magicians, the characters, the plot everything literally gets my juices flowing! Glad to see someone loves this show as much as I do!

Literally about to watch EP 13 as I type!

Make sure you get your ass back here and post what you thought, It's so hard to find people who gave this show a chance as it wasn't that appealing when it first starting airing. They have 100% improved the show as it's carried on. The characters are so distinctive & season 3 has moulded them even more.

Personally for me from the pilot till now. I was gripped every step of the way. Although the ep's dedicated to Quentin "Schizophrenia" was a grind it was still worth it to lead onto the beast arc and all that followed. But yeah, i'll post back after i watched. We shall discuss

Firstly. Wow Foggy.

Second. Wow Alice,

Thirdly, Wow Julia (though very julia like)

Fourth. Wow.

Maybe I should watch... Is there real magic or fake magic in it?
