(Removing that part)

He just made this shop though <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=5822925>

Should have given him more time to respond. He could have fallen asleep or anything honestly.

Good luck though. From what I have seen Cight is a good guy.

I was gonna give him a until tomorrow but ldk, how do you fall asleep in two seconds after me messaging you saying the codes don't work?? Is that naturally possible????

SIM-2223238 - April 10, 2018, 1:00 am

Do you have proof of the jabber relating to him?

I sadly do not, but his AGC shop opened around the same time he linked me to it?? From now on I am using middlemen and Confirming there accounts. I've learned my lesson TWICE today! ;(

But.. if it was me, I wouldn't have someone pay me and than go offline that's just dumb because you'd make them think you just scammed them?? ?

That isn't enough proof, sorry but you're pretty much fucked.

Then you can close this, it's invalid dispute. You should've confirmed the deal over PM's before sending anything.
(unless you can prove it's his jabber/he posted it somewhere on hf)

Ninetales. - April 10, 2018, 1:07 am

I've dealt with Cight with hundreds of dollars in the past. I hope you guys get this situated.

He's pretty legit. He might have fallen asleep like the other guy said.

REEEEERRRE - April 10, 2018, 9:48 am

Craftybot, I hate to say this man but I don't have a jabber

And I've never dealt with you over pm

Saltpeter - April 10, 2018, 10:11 am

Moral of the story here is to not send money to people claiming to be users without confirming they are who they say they are.

If you're in a rush you can always use <https://hackforums.net/verifysecret.php> to confirm as well.

Also, there were no messages exchanged AT ALL on Hack Forums. Nothing about you wanting AGC, nothing about me 'scamming' you. Idk man... sucks u lost money luke - April 10, 2018, 1:19 pm

Was there no msg sent on HF, if not, probably an imposter. I've dealt with Cight numerous times and have had no problems before.

Acsriot - April 10, 2018, 2:00 pm

Always confirm off-site communications with a PM.

REEEEERRRE - April 10, 2018, 4:34 pm

User has confirmed that I didn't pm him.

Spoiler \(Click to View\)

I've tried contacting CraftyBot, but he is pretty much refusing to close this dispute. I'm not saying you didn't get scammed and that none of this happened; i'm just defending my case since it's not fair I have an open deal dispute when it's not even valid.

you do sell amazon codes all of sudden so that doesnt help the cause of defending yourself.

It isn't really uncommon for people to imposter others when they see that they're selling a new product. Actually... isn't that typically how it would go?

You are trying to ruin someone else's reputation from your own wrong doings. You should have confirmed who he was on HF. You made the mistake, no one else. It's an invalid deal dispute unless you can prove that's him.

Deany - April 10, 2018, 5:37 pm

You're done commenting on your own deal dispute?

And if he isn't entitled to give you anything, WHY are you keeping the deal dispute open?

Not trying to give you shit but honestly I see dumb kids on here all the time who refuse to deal via PM's.

Lesson learned

I actually deleted that post because I could already see you're butthurt because you got scammed by a fucking imposter for $40 ?

I couldn't give less fucks about Cight or his scam reports, at least I confirm all deals over PM's before sending any money.

The point of a deal dispute is to solve a dispute- there is no dispute.
The dispute was confirmed as invalid 2 days ago, so close the thread.

I'm not even gonna signify that with an explanation.

I'll just say this: you fucked up. You made a mistake and didn't confirm on site who you were dealing with.

Could it have potentially been cight? Maybe, sure.

But then again, it might not be him, which just means you are ruining his reputation over your own wrong doing.

Just imagine you were getting blamed for something you didn't do and your reputation was suffering because of it.

At the end of the day, you don't know if that was really him or not, and that's YOUR fault.

And if this reply means nothing to you, it really shows who you are as a human, a true scum. Good day.

I understand that and I've learned my lesson and know what to do from now on before dealing off-site. But I'm gonna be honest with you.. I only left this open because so many people were commenting and I thought it was funny how I could continue a funny yet pointless argument. (I'll close it though since I guess you're right. :P)
