Thread: Unwritten Rules of HackForums

Copywriter - April 12, 2018, 12:52 am

There are a plenty of unwritten rules in HF..

I'll go ahead and tell a familiar one: If someone posts an image link like this or alike: "http://imgur.com/gallery/0Pxgv"

The first uber or l33t that posts should repost the link in the correct format for all of HF users: "

<https://imgur.com/gallery/0Pxgv>"

NEVER post in another font, or in the color gray.

Ebooks do not make you money.

If you argue with an UB3R (even if you're right), you're probably going to get -3'd.

Add "Educational purposes only/Created for educational purposes/intended for educational purposes"

"This T.o.S may change at any time" to your T.O.S to protect your self.(Shorta & Mr. Robot)

You will never get a refund on an ebook because exposing how shit it is means you are exposing content from it. (Mr. Robot)

Use the enter button to space your paragraphs, everyone hates reading a block.

More awards, upgrades, posts and prestige = More IQ (Electroneum.)

Provide everything you want to know in a single PM, this shit ain't an Instant Messaging app. (Mr. Robot)

What other unwritten rules exist?

I'll go ahead and list your guy's responses here.

Sheeple - April 12, 2018, 12:57 am

Mmm, using the enter button like there's no tomorrow. No reason to have a paragraph be in an unformatted large ass wall of text.

When a new member is scammed by some trusted guy.

If he opens a scam report he gets rep fucked and called a liar for posting an invalid scam report.

Mr. Robot - April 12, 2018, 3:43 pm

1. If you see someone asking about carding/black hat shit, ask them for their skype or email on the thread to contact them so they publicly expose themselves.
2. Always say your tutorials or tools are for legal use only and you have a T.O.S that protects you.
3. You will never get a refund on an ebook because exposing how shit it is means you are exposing content from it.
4. Neg any user when you have haters, expect your haters to rep them with +10 or more total. Good way to take advantage of this is to Neg a user you like, wait for your haters to prop them up with rep and change yours back to a positive. Helps the user even more. (idiots).
5. Alby controls the SRPP section whether we like it or not. I think he is paid to preach liberal ideas in that section.
6. If someone receives something or does something notable, post it on the HF news thread.
7. Most people who have this in their signature 'ALWAYS PM ME BEFORE DOING OFF SITE DEALS' will still contact users offsite, scam them and then use that and say it wasn't them as they must contact onsite.
8. Gambling scripts #BlackShadow never work.

I have like 100s of these but most of them are trivial shit like above.

If someone reps you then you must rep them back. Don't put any useful information in your rep though, use something generic like "Closer on the road to 1000" or "low quality".

Circle jerk all the threads in the Marketplace or you'll get shunned out.

Hold your Bitcoin, it'll hit $100K soon.

If you don't drop thousands in a group your e-pen is not big.

When someone negs you, you should put a revenge neg rep with desc "DWC USER IS SUSPICIOUS"

Do not show hate for animals unless you want to be negged by toxic kids.

You are not a real HF member if you havent upgraded and left a DWC rep.

Oh my god, I just saw your signature. Who needs to rep a gang when you can rep yourself.

TayK out.
