Solid report, he self-banned after scamming you. What a sad guy

Saltpeter - April 12, 2018, 7:06 am

And the account is now under investigation. Sorry for your loss OP.

Damn, like seriously why would anybody scam over such a small amount of money... What a sad loser that is.

Well to be fair, it's probably not him. I noticed that his IP matched and I brought it up and he told me to check again and it said 0... so that was the first red flag. Then I noticed he hadn't been active or dealt with anyone in like 2 years. User probably sold him account or got hacked...

Uhh next time also check the first few pages of his posts if he has been inactive for a while and suddenly started posting again like this guy, theres a 3 year gap massive red flag right there

Yeah, new lesson learned. I was careless 'cause he has no report before I dealt with him.

Jeez, yeah, this is the actual David Tennant (I've moved locations since my original IP but still in the same country...) - I haven't been on this site in YEARS and tried to log on to find a banned account. Sorry this happened to you, I'll up my account security in the future, I guess my password got compromised sometime in the last couples years.
