I've talked to the founders of this service for a long time now. In the process, I have learned a lot of valuable information regarding SMM panels and also that there's a lot of knowledge, experience and dedication behind this whole project. Consequently, I have high hopes here and know this will go far.

Upon user actions, we check the user's ISP, user browser, system language and if the IP is a VPN/part of the TOR network to determine whether or not the user is deemed as malicious. If the user returns true in the fraudulent check, it is inserted in our records and will automatically reject the user from doing anything on the website.
