

Forum:Hack Forums

Thread: How to download MP3 files from any website

firefox - August 1, 2010, 7:51 pm

There used to be a good program that lets you download any mp3 file in any website. I really can't remember the name. Please guys, How can I download these mp3 files in this website ?

<http://www.partnersinrhyme.com/wmcstore/WMCshop.cgi?action=dbview&id=RM87>

I want to make a short film, and I like the music there. Thanks ?

Someguy123 - August 1, 2010, 10:13 pm

You could just look up the album on a torrent website and download it from there...

harsh - August 1, 2010, 10:16 pm try IDM or real player download they will download it for you a small window will pop up and says "download this"

mark212 - August 1, 2010, 10:29 pm

i use netvideohunter

too short

firefox - August 1, 2010, 10:55 pm

(Aug 1, 2010 10:29 PM)mark212 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i use netvideohunter

too short

did you try it on that website? did it work for you ? There was another software, I don't remember what its called. When there is an mp3 file on a page, all you got to do is to reload the page, and then it will catch it for you.

GAMEKINGZ - August 1, 2010, 11:02 pm

I can help you out pm me with your email.

firefox - August 2, 2010, 9:21 am

(Aug 1, 2010 10:29 PM)mark212 Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) i use netvideohunter

too short

I downloaded the program, and it worked. The only thing I didn't like was when it downloaded as an FLV file. Anyway thanks ?

GAMEKINGZ - August 2, 2010, 9:36 pm

(Aug 2, 2010 09:21 AM)firefox Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I downloaded the program, and it worked. The only thing I didn't like was when it downloaded as an FLV file. Anyway thanks ?

hmm thats a big fail i can save them all as mp3 :P added you to msn.

d4rk c0d3r - August 2, 2010, 11:45 pm

you can try IDM (internet download manager) or type the name of the song in google and add to the end (4shared)

you should get an mp3 link ^_^